JOE CULBERTSON, long Hamlin resident, former mayor, wheat farmer deluxe and all-around good citizen in farming, civic and church affairs, has also been known for his unalterable devotion to the Aggie footballers of Texas A. & M. College. He every year manages to see some of the Aggies' games.

But last week-end some of his acquaintances were questioning his loyalty to the Aggies following their upset loss to the strong Rice Institute Owls at Houston that toppled the Aggies from the nation's No. 1 ranking of football teams. Late Saturday and on Sunday there was a Rice flag waving in Joe's front yard.

Of course, it may have been that some of Joe's "friends" could have been involved in the nasty trick, but we wouldn't even suggest that Fred B. Moore Jr., Jack Russell or J. C. Turner had anything to do with such a prank.

AN AUSTRALIAN was trying to impress a visiting Texan with the wonders of Australia, but was having little success. Just then a kangaroo went hopping by.

Drawled the Texan: "Ah! I grant you one thing, that's for sure. Your grasshoppers are bigger'n ours."

NOWADAYS, with so many sick and accident policies available for people, the strain and stress of getting sick or hurt and having to go to the hospital is not as bad as it used to be. A fellow is not worried sick with the thought of how he is going to pay the doctors and the hospital.

But there are other considerations. Witness a conversation we heard about the other day:

"When will your brother's leg be well so he can come to work?"

"Not for a long time, I think."

"Why?"

"Because compensation's set in!"

ON HIS WAY to his office every morning, the late Congressman Sol Bloom used to drop a coin in the street.

"What's the big idea?" someone asked.

"Oh," laughed Bloom, "somebody is sure to find it and be happy the rest of the day."

Miss Jessie Nell Sweeten, 23, is the only member of the Athens police force. She is shown in patrol car, checking out the radio. Miss Sweeten, daughter of Jess Sweeten, former Henderson County sheriff, has had no police experience. The town's three-man police force resigned in protest of the hiring of Miss Sweeten.

Mechanical Pickers To Gather Cotton

Many farmers of the Hamlin territory are getting ready to put mechanical pickers into the fields within a few days in an effort to salvage the cotton crop that six weeks ago looked like a bumper one. The crop still is expected to be the best the area has raised in 10 years.

Two-County Singing Slated at Stamford

Singers and song lovers of the section are invited to attend the regular Haskell and Jones County singing Sunday afternoon at the Foursquare Church in Stamford, according to members of the arrangements committee.

Singing will get underway at 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The public is invited.

NAVY MAN HOME.

Leon Millern, son of Mrs. Bunny Millern of Hamlin, is home visiting with relatives and friends. With more than four years of service in the U. S. Navy behind him, young Millern has been stationed in the Japan area for the past two years. He has a 27-day leave before being reassigned.

Hamlin Future Farmers of America Teams Win Three Firsts at District

Hamlin Future Farmers of America won three first places in district leadership competition last Monday at Stamford. Twenty-four vocational agriculture boys participated to comprise Hamlin's five teams.

The three contests won by local students were junior and senior chapter conducting, and radio broadcasting. Other teams entered by Hamlin were senior farm skills demonstration and junior FFA quiz, which placed fourth and ninth respectively. Eighteen schools compose the Stamford FFA district organization.

Herald to Be Printed Earlier Next Week

Next week's issue of The Herald will be printed one day earlier than usual, being put in the mails Tuesday evening instead of the usual Wednesday evening.

Advertisers and those with news intended for the paper are asked to please prepare their copy early. Monday noon will be the deadline for both advertising and news copy.

Thanksgiving Service Set Wednesday by Alliance

Cash Prizes Posted For Winners in City Decorations

Cash prizes will be offered to the best decorated Christmas windows prepared by clubs of the city, according to officials of the Hamlin Woman's Forum, sponsoring organization. Vacant store windows of the business section will be used as locale for the decorations that will feature the Christmas season.

Each of the nine participating clubs of the Forum will be responsible for a window in the project.

Owners of homes in Hamlin also are being urged to decorate their residences and yards for the Christmas season.

Prizes of $5 for first place and $250 for second place are being offered in each division.

Deadline for decorating windows to be eligible for the prizes will be December 10, it is announced.

Judging of the windows will be done between December 15 and December 21 by out-of-town judges, officials of the Forum declare. Windows will be judged on five points: Theme, originality, beauty, neatness and effectiveness.

ALMOST A TOTAL LOSS was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Willis, former young couple of Hamlin, whose home at Orange was in the path of the storms that whipped Texas Gulf Coast cities 10 days ago. The picture above shows the apartment in which the Willis couple and their young son, Keith, were living when the tornado struck. Both the couple sustained some bruises and scratches, and their baby was not injured. Friends of the family helped them set up housekeeping in another section of the city. Mrs. Willis is the former Joyce Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Q. L. Cooper of Hamlin.

Methodist Pastor To Be Speaker at City-Wide Service

An inspirational program of co-operative thanks is being planned for the annual union Thanksgiving service being sponsored by the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance. The services will be conducted next Wednesday evening, November 27, at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Edmund W. Robb, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker. Choirs from the Oak Grove Colored Baptist Church and the First Baptist Church will furnish special music.

Congregational singing will be under the direction of Bill Davis of Abilene, musical director of the First Baptist Church. Ministers of member churches of the alliance will serve as ushers and lead in various aspects of the service.

During the service the traditional Hamlin welfare fund offering will be taken. This fund is designated to assist needy residents and transients. During the past year the offering proved inadequate, and the fund had to be subsidized from other sources, the treasurer reports. Consequently, everyone is urged to do his best in this offering since this is the only community welfare enterprise. A report by the treasurer is contained in another story in today's Herald.

All residents of Hamlin and the surrounding area are urged to take part in the union service, declare officials of the alliance.

Commissioners Assured That Highway Plan Will Continue

Attendance at City's Sunday Schools Still Improves Sunday

Still further improvement in total attendance at Sunday Schools of 13 reporting Hamlin churches was recorded Sunday. The 1,202 total was 25 more than the previous Sunday and one more than the year ago figure.

Attendance figures, by churches, for November 17, November 10 and a year ago follow:

Farm-to-Market Road Program Expected to Grow

Jones County commissioners and the county judge returned last week from the state convention of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association re-assured that the future of the farm-to-market road program will continue, according to Commissioner Johnnie Agnew of Hamlin.

Those attending the convention at Laredo last week were County Judge H. G. (Pete) Andrews and Commissioners Lem Ruark, J. E. Touchstone and Johnnie Agnew.

One of the speakers at the convention, Marshall Fornby, said that $52,000,000 has been set aside for the farm-to-market roads for the next two years—more than at any time in the past. He said the program is not stopping but is growing.

Jones County's contention that the county should not be required to pay gas tax on trucks and machinery used to build roads was presented to the resolutions committee by Touchstone. The committee favored a resolution eliminating the tax which was carried to the floor by unanimous vote. The matter will be presented to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Elimination of that tax would save the county several thousand dollars each year.

The County Judges and Commissioners Association represents the counties in legislative matters, and after three years was successful in getting the state to assume responsibility of paying one-half the cost of rights-of-way on all highways except farm roads. It will become a law early in 1958.

ASC Funds Still Are Available to Farmers For Stubble Mulching

Funds are still available to aid producers in carrying out the stubble mulching practices under provisions of the 1957 ACP program, according to M. S. Jones, county office manager of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

This practice consists of performing tillage operations in a manner that will leave the stubble on the surface of the soil, thereby increasing its permeability and affording protection from wind and water erosion.

Producers who plan to carry out this practice before December 31, 1957, and who wish to apply for government cost-share assistance should, says Jones, file their applications at the ASC office in Anson at the earliest possible date. The government cost-share assistance on the practice amounts to 50 cents per acre.

Revival Rescheduled At Sunset Church

Revival meeting that was scheduled two weeks ago at the Sunset Baptist Church in North Hamlin, and postponed because of the flu epidemic that was making its rounds in the community, has been reset for December 1-8, according to R. B. Tiner, pastor of the church.

Rev. A. L. Meador of Waxahachie, president of the Missionary Baptist Association of Texas, will be evangelist for the eight-day series of services.

Town Will Observe Thanksgiving Nov. 28

Thanksgiving Day, next Thursday, November 28, will be observed as a business and school holiday in Hamlin.

Stamford Schools will have a two-day holiday, November 28 and 29, dismissing Wednesday afternoon for the remainder of the week.

November 28 was one of the dates for business holidays set up by business firms first of the year in voting conducted by the Hamlin Planning Board.

Good Crowd Attends Fairview Ordination

About 15 visiting pastors and deacons were present Sunday afternoon at the Fairview Baptist Church, seven miles southeast of Hamlin, for the ordination services of two deacons.

Questioning of the candidates, Winston Gray and Woodrow Goodwin, for the council was led by the pastor of the church, Rev. M. E. Randolph.

Rev. Dan Oglesby of the Tuxedo church gave the charge to the deacons, and the ordination sermon was preached by Rev. K. E. Woolley of Benjamin, former pastor of the Fairview congregation.

MISS SATELLITE AND RUNNERS-UP—Lovely Ann Malinowski of Beaumont (center) won the title of Miss Satellite No. 1 in the sweater and short contest held in Galveston in connection with Golden Days sports car races. Juanita Wolf (left) was named Miss Satellite No. 2, and Boyce Williams (right) Miss Satellite No. 3. Both Miss Wolf and Miss Williams are from Houston.

GOOD HIGHWAYS TODAY CAN ASSURE TOMORROW

"Drive modern. Get hep to 1957 highway techniques." J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, used that seemingly flippant remark this week to call motorists' attention to a subject about which he is deadly serious—super highway driving. His comment was made as he discussed the share-the-road program which the Texas Safety Association and the National Safety Council are conducting.

This program is part of the nation-wide back-the-attack-on-traffic-accidents campaign. The back-the-attack theme is slow down and live!

"Super highways are as modern as tomorrow, yet many people attempt to drive on them with yesterday's driving know-how," said Musick. "With out-moded driving habits you're a menace to yourself and all the other super highway drivers."

He pointed out that the greatest difference between super highway driving and ordinary driving is the high sustained speed possible on the super highway. "Many drivers who are not accustomed to such speed are at first unable to handle a swiftly moving car," he said. But they step right out with the speediest. On the other hand, some novices hang on grimly to their 30-mile-or-so habit and cause confusion and pile-ups on the throughway.

"Keeping in step is a must on a super highway," Musick declared. "With traffic moving at such a fast clip anything that disrupts the smooth flow is likely to endanger several cars. Remember, collisions on these roads often involve more than two cars."

He pointed out that the two most dangerous factors about speed are (1) that if danger arises, you have difficulty stopping quickly enough to avoid an accident; and (2) speed increases the severity of an accident.

"Another serious danger of the super highway," he said, "is highway hypnosis—a sort of trance induced by the monotony of straight roads, constant speed and the hum of the motor. The best way to avoid that is to take frequent rest stops for a short nap, a brief walk or some refreshment."

He advised drivers to make alertness their watch-word when they drive on super highways or average roads. "You've got to learn to anticipate dangerous situations," he warned. "Keep a constant watch on the road ahead and check in your rear-view mirror frequently."

Musick said that enforcement agencies through the nation are stepping up traffic law enforcement on city streets, county and inter-city roads and super highways. "Such action has been demanded by the public," he said, "and undoubtedly will improve the driving situation for all users, whether they be local citizens, visitors or through travelers."

RECALLING Other Years

★ Being news items taken from old files of Your Home - Town Newspaper, The Herald.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

News of interest in the Hamlin community of 30 years ago included the following, reproduced from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated November 18, 1927:

A little daughter arrived Friday, November 11, to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Colwell.

Next Tuesday the High School Choral Club will present an operetta, "The Miniature Lady." In the cast are Miss Ballew, J. B. Adkins, Milton Wilson, Wilma Hall, Ruth Wilson, Claude Chastain, Alice Maberry, Koleta Newson, Lowell Ballew, J. D. Greenway and Gladys Sharpe.

Among Hamlin men on deer hunts this week are J. C. Greenway, Starr Inzer, Elmer Feagan, L. D. Harden, Dr. P. A. Fowler and John Ed Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate May and little son, James Tate, visited at Coleman Friday and Saturday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Printed as news in the Hamlin vicinity 20 years ago were the following items, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated November 19, 1937:

Another gap on highways out of Hamlin was closed this week with completion of work on Highway 4 north of Hamlin to the Fisher County line.

Rev. W. H. Hanks, pastor of the First Methodist Church, is away this week attending the Northwest Texas Conference at Childress.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nesbitt of Lincoln, Nebraska, are guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Fowler.

A killing frost came to the Hamlin section Wednesday morning, November 14 is about the average date for killing frost, old-timers declare.

W. C. Russell spent Monday in Dallas on business. He was accompanied as far as Fort Worth by Mrs. Russell, who is taking a special music course at the Southwestern Baptist Seminary.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Among items of interest in the area 10 years ago were the following news briefs, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated November 21, 1947:

Rainfall totaling 1.92 inches that fell in the Hamlin area since last Thursday brought smiles to farmers and ranchers of the territory.

Anson's Tigers drowned the Pied Piper football crew last Friday night in the rain by a 26 to 2 score.

"Cactus Jack" Ellison and Al Johnson, Hamlin young men playing with the Hardin-Simmons University team at Abilene, are doped for berths on the all-Border Conference team.

A Hamlin party of six deer hunters bagged six deer first of the week. In the group were Ted Russell, E. J. Whaley, Jack Russell, Herman McBride, Art and Stanley Carmichael. Holly Toler and Thad Harden also are reported to have bagged several deer with another party.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Considered news in the Hamlin community five years ago were the items below, reprinted from the issue of The Hamlin Herald November 21, 1952:

Seven members of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce are slated to attend a conference Monday at Abilene with the Texas Highway Commission to discuss the needs of Highway 92 between Hamlin and Stamford.

Final tabulations of the voting in the November 5 general election give Dwight D. Eisenhower 53 per cent of the votes in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blanton Jr. are announcing the arrival of a new daughter on November 4.

Total of 1,114 suggestions for projects of the Chamber of Commerce were made in the recent clinic, according to R. T. Spaulding, CC manager.

ONE YEAR AGO.

Happenings in the territory a year ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated October 18, 1956:

Difficulties in securing a widened right-of-way for Highway 92 from Hamlin to Tuxedo have been encountered. The Lone Star Gas Company's main gas line is within the boundaries of the proposed project, and the concern has not been cooperative in moving the line, say county commissioners Court members.

Hamlin FFA boys hold a good lead for district honors in area contests, according to T. C. Blankinship and Harold Eades, sponsors of the boys.

Broad Demand for Stocker and Feeder Livestock Features Monday Trading

Cattle and calves at Fort Worth Monday again met broad demand from stocker and feeder buyers, and prices on replacement kinds were fully steady to stronger, declares Ted Goudy, special market reporter for The Herald, in his weekly market summary. His release continues: Almost any kind of animal that appeared capable of going back to the pasture and making a gain or raising a calf moved to stocker buyers at prices well beyond the reach of the packer contingent.

This feature of the trade put a strong prop under most cattle and calves, and defeated efforts of any buyers who sought to lower costs. Fed cattle were very scarce and about steady.

Comparative prices included: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $19 to $22, and common and medium offerings sold from $14 to $19. Fat cows cashed at $13 to $14.50, and canners and cutters cashed at $8.50 to $13. Bulls brought $11 to $16.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $19 to $21.50, some baby beefs of yearling weights above that range. Common and medium offerings sold from $14 to $19. Culls cashed at $11 to $13. Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $20 to $24.50, and heifer calves sold from $22 downward. Stocker steer yearlings of good and choice grades sold from $18 to $22. Stocker cows cashed at $10 to $16, and some pairs sold with the 866-pound cows at $14.75, and the 323-pound calves at $21.

For the past 25 years or longer a steadily increasing flow of cattle and calves from Texas and other Western areas into the once cotton and tobacco empire of the South and Southeast has built up steadily. Reasons for the increased interest in livestock was primarily the removal of acreage from those basic crops under acreage allotments. Tens of thousands of these were shipped from Fort Worth.

Soil building crops became more popular, and the best way to market such roughage was with cattle or sheep.

In the recent drought years Texas and other Western areas were forced to cut and cut again the numbers of livestock they could carry. Then the drought began to break. This fall livestock production prospects are excellent in view of recent rains, and lots of cold weather pasture in the form of wheat, oats and winter cover crops is assured.

Texas is ready to get back into the cattle and sheep business!

This situation has led to a reversal of the flow of livestock suitable for restocking from West to East, to East to West.

Thousands of cows, calves and yearlings are moving Eastward from the farms and plantations to the Great Plains country, where once again the ground is moist and promises to once again sustain the accustomed millions of head of cattle and sheep.

Recent days have seen thousands of these "Southerners" on the yards at Fort Worth. The yard trade in the dealer division is the most active it has been in a score of years as stockmen shop around for cattle and sheep to harvest the bumper crop of green feed.

The tide has turned, and the flow is reversed, and should conditions continue favorable Texas' cattle and sheep population is going to be sharply higher in very short order due to this "Southern transmigration."

The trade was slow in the hog yards at Fort Worth Monday. The 12 major markets reported more than 26,000 more hogs around the circuit than a week ago, and elimination of daylight saving time delayed usual reports from most North and East markets an additional hour.

However, trade developed 25 cents lower, with most choice hogs at $17.25, and a few $17.50. This was around 50 cents or more above Northern quotations. Sows at $17.25 downward shared the weaker market.

Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $21 to $22, and cull to medium lambs sold from $17 to $20. Stocker and feeder lambs of medium to good grades sold from $19 to $20.

Yearling muttons sold from $19 to $18, and slaughter ewes sold from $7.50 to $9. A few breeding ewes sold at $20 per head. Aged bucks sold from $5 to $6. A few goats sold for around $6.

Reluctant Empire: Texas

The biggest state of the forty-eight is the subject of a searching examination in a new book, "Reluctant Empire: The Mind of Texas" by George Fuernmann, which is being released this week.

Fuernmann, a columnist for The Houston Post and author of "Houston: Land of the Big Rich," gives a candid picture of the faults and virtues of a state whose importance in its own eyes is notorious, but whose importance to the rest of the nation is not always recognized.

Readers of "Reluctant Empire" will learn that Texas is the state where:

1. The big millionaires contribute to the political campaigns in other states.
2. The Democratic leaders of the House and Senate come from, yet it can be described as "Democratic in state politics, Republican in national politics."
3. A mural was removed from the library and Picasso was censored in Dallas.
4. Houston is the largest city in the United States with racial segregation, and a town in which the Minute Women of the U. S. have attempted thought control.
5. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has been enjoined from other "educational and charitable activities within the state."
6. The Baptist convention has more influence on the state than oil, which it resembles in its reluctance to yield. "The state's fear of the United Nations and its opposition to federal rights arise in part from Baptist convictions."
7. The church life is based on organized Christianity and orthodox Protestantism, and religion is not so much personal as group.
8. Commercial opportunism has made it seem the most foolish and provincial of all states.

Concludes Fuernmann: "Texas is to the rest of the United States as the United States is to the rest of the Western World: Younger, full of pep, an irritant, annoying in its self-assurance, and thought by older and perhaps wiser regions to need counsel. The state is as eager to be counseled by the rest of the United States as the nation is to be counseled by the continent."

"Reluctant Empire" contains many drawings by E. M. Schwetz, the well known Texas artist.

Married couples who play bridge as partners are usually congenial or are past caring.

Dependability Is Vital

Dependability is a trait in human beings which is often under-rated and which should be cultivated by every young man and young woman—and others, too, for that matter.

Today's young men and women can take a job or leave it, and be fired from one job and find another, and can usually find a way to obtain enough money to get by on one way or another. All of this is good, except for the fact that an easy life does not necessarily build character.

We have seen that soft, easy living has prevented America's youth from being good physical specimens. Recent tests involving both American and European boys show that the Europeans are in far better physical shape than we are. So, we must conclude that an easy life does not develop the qualities of self-sufficiency and dependability as widely as these characteristics are developed in tougher times.

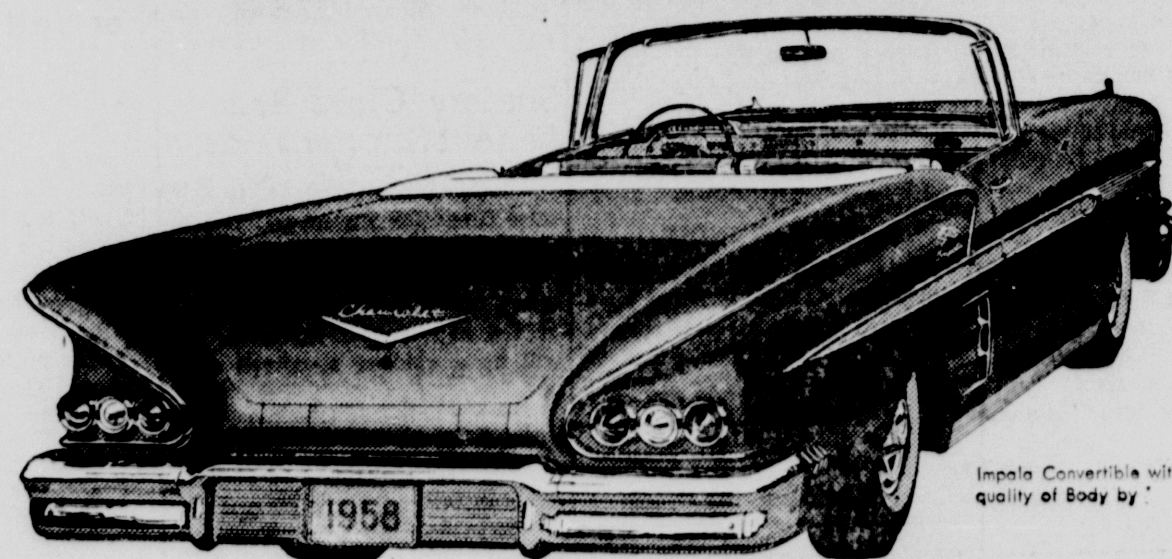

Perhaps it is better to have the easy times and the advantages that go with them rather than tight times. It is nevertheless desirable to see the present generation develop the qualities of reliability and dependability which so many older people seem to have.

It will be noted that many of the top executives in the business world are far more eager to perform a personal service for a small profit than many of today's youngsters, who seem to lack the fire and the will to please that are so necessary if one is to stay on top during both good times and bad.

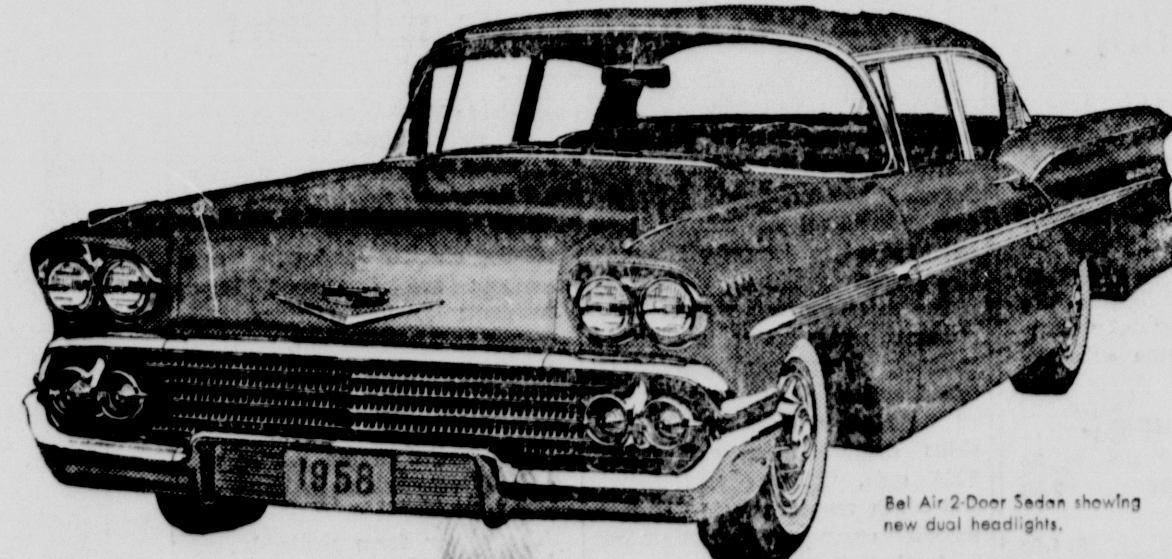

A newspaper has by its very nature accepted a public trust that it will print impartially all of the news worthy of publication without fear or favor. What is considered news, and how it is presented is part of this public trust and is based in large measure upon the attitudes and tastes of the locale and times.—Owatonna, Minnesota, Photo News.

With the public debt of the United States now over $274,000,000,000, and with gold reserves of only $21,793,000,000, the future of the nation financially should require a building up of our gold reserves. An incentive is needed to speed up the mining of gold in our idle U. S. gold mining districts. It would be good business on the part of Washington to invite miners to sell their newly mined gold to the government at a price that would allow a profit.—Denver, Colorado, Mining Record.

Elementary Students Study Thanksgiving

Students of the fourth and fifth grades of the Hamlin Elementary School eagerly anticipate the Thanksgiving holidays, declare the teachers. The fourth grade exhibits are replicas of the first Thanksgiving. The pupils have been learning the value of work, responsibility and being grateful.

The verse "Give us our daily bread" includes the wealth of material bread, spiritual bread and the wisdom of bread. We, the teachers and pupils, are grateful for the well balanced and well prepared lunches. The pupils appreciate the free milk in the afternoon that is partly furnished by the Parent-Teacher Association, say the teachers.

Clyde (Doc) Sims Buys Martin Drive-Inn

Announcement was made last week of the purchase by Clyde (Doc) Sims of Anson of the Martin Drive-Inn restaurant on East Lake Drive from Mr. and Mrs. Fank Martin, who have operated the business for nearly a year. Sims is already in charge.

Sims said this week he would move his family here as soon as satisfactory housing can be arranged. He and Mrs. Sims have three children—Sharon, 15, Debbie Gail, seven, and Barty, 10. They are Baptists and he is a Mason.

Kids' Photo Contest Again Arranged for

For the third successive year The Herald has made arrangements with Winston Lucas of Irving, who will come to Hamlin again on Tuesday, December 3, to make pictures of youngsters of the territory and enter them in a photo contest.

The photos will be made free of charge, and each child will have his picture published in The Hamlin Herald. In addition the children will be competing for $18.20 in prizes, being offered for the three best photographs made during the day.

Studios will be set up at Hasen's Dry Goods.

Missionary Slated To Talk Friday at Nazarene Church

Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Faul, missionaries of the Church of the Nazarene to Barbados, will present a special service at the Hamlin church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, according to the pastor, Rev. Bill Hanna.

Rev. and Mrs. Faul have recently returned to the United States on furlough.

While on the field, Rev. Faul has done evangelistic and pastoral work, served as district president of youth work, conducted the course of study classes for pastors, constructed the district tabernacle, served as mission field treasurer, and introduced vacation Bible schools and Christian service training courses on the district.

Before going to Barbados, Rev. Faul attended Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa, Idaho, and Seattle Pacific College in Washington. He also pastored for seven years in the Dakotas and Missouri.

Rev. Faul is traveling extensively in deputation work while in the states, and is speaking concerning the island of Barbados, its people and industries, and the work of the Church of the Nazarene there.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend this special service, declares Pastor Hanna.

Free Cooking School Set at H&M Today

Women and girls of the Hamlin trade territory (and the menfolk if they so desire) are invited to attend the free cooking school to be conducted this (Thursday) afternoon from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock at the H. & M. Tire and Appliance Store, according to Joe Hudspeth, co-owner.

New techniques of food preparation and cooking will be demonstrated by Opal Paden, home economist, using appliances from H. & M.

Door prizes will be given to attendants at the cooking school, declares Hudspeth.

REPORTS TO CONTRARY.

Two camels plodded along side by side in a caravan crossing the burning desert.

Finally one looked around furtively and said: "I don't care what anybody says, I'm thirsty."

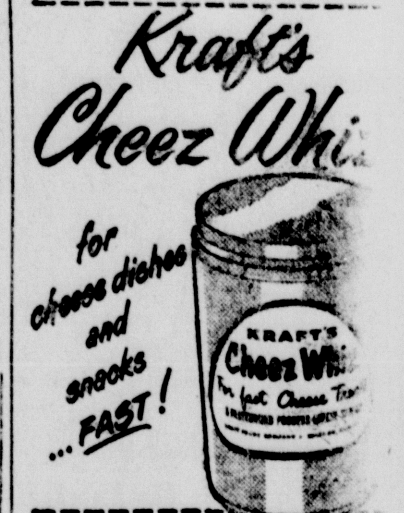

DePriest School Sest Open House Sunday

People of the Hamlin community are invited to visit and inspect the DePriest Colored School Sunday afternoon during an open house period, according to E. S. Morgan, principal. Visiting hours will be from 2:00 to 5:30 p. m.

Featured at the open house will be the new homemaker cottage that has recently been completed at the school. Other school activities also will be highlighted at the open house, Morgan says.

"All the Way!"

The 58 FORD is here now...

there's nothing newer in the world

With all that's new for a world of difference

There's bold, new styling—new Interceptor V-8 Power—new Cruise-O-Matic Drive—new Ford-Aire Suspension! The 58 Ford is the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere!

You could search the world over and never find a car to match this 58 Ford's new beauty... new power... new side... all at the low Ford price. We know! We tried it!

In Paris... the most style-conscious fashion critics in the world had a deep, low bow for Ford's latest style creation. In the mighty Himalayas, Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine with Precision Fuel Induction won the day!

Then there's nothing newer than the true air ride of Ford-Aire Suspension. It's like riding on a cloud! But, you don't have to go to foreign soil to drive this newest Ford. We'll gladly save you the trip. Come in today!

From London to Bangkok... the whole world loved it!

The 58 Ford stopped traffic in Trafalgar Square when it passed through on its round-the-world trip. And that was typical of the excitement this Ford caused in Paris... Rome... Athens... Istanbul... Calcutta... and Bangkok. For this Ford was proved around the world in the toughest "shakedown" cruise in history.

Smooth as they come... smart as they go. The Fairlane 500 takes the 58 styling cues, going away (arriving, too!)

COME IN... SEE THE CAR THAT WAS PROVED AND APPROVED AROUND THE WORLD!

Plans to Furnish Area Hospitals with Xmas Cheer Made by Garden Clubs

Rain failed to dampen the zeal and hamper attendance greatly at the recent meeting at Menard of District VIII Garden Clubs of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. Mrs. Edgar Duncan, president, and Mrs. Clyde Grice, second vice president of the Hamlin Garden Club were among attendants.

There were 128 registrations, an agreeable surprise to those who had listened throughout the night before to the steady downpour of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. John Royal spoke on the subjects of soil and water and the features of the water conservation bill passed by the people of Texas recently.

District VIII Garden Clubs are planning to furnish the hospitals and schools in and near their district this Christmas.

Ablene State Hospital—Twenty-four five-foot Christmas trees; 36 round door wreaths; 24 boxes of medium sized Christmas tree balls (12 to the box average); 24 large rolls of flame-proof Christmas tree cotton; 12 sets of Christmas tree lights; enough homemade Christmas tree decorations (flame-proof) for 24 trees five feet high.

Legion State Tuberculosis Hospital near Kerrville—140 corsages; 50 small bedside arrangements, such as miniature Christmas trees or Santa Claus; nine large evergreen wreaths.

Wichita Falls State Hospital—Fifteen dozen ornaments; 200 packages tinsel; 200 yards rope tinsel; 400 corsages; 20 sets of lights.

Need for these articles is great, according to Mrs. O. D. Bradford, district publicity chairman. District VIII Garden Clubs have already started filling the above assignments, she says.

Sweetwater Garden Club invites all interested persons to attend a lecture and demonstration by Robert A. Rucker of Texas Technological College at Lubbock Friday evening, December 6, at the Bluebonnet Hotel in Sweetwater. Six Christmas tree tables and centerpieces will be shown. Rucker has a national reputation as an arranger. A nominal fee will be charged, and door prizes will be given.

Two Pledges Installed At Tuesday Meeting Of Beta Theta Group

The pledge ritual was conducted for two pledges, Mrs. D. C. Andrews and Mrs. Max Murrell when the Beta Theta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. R. L. McClung with 12 members and two of three pledges present. Mrs. Neil Laminack, also a Beta Theta pledge, was unable to attend.

After the ritual a brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Earl Smith.

Pumpkin pie and coffee were served to the following: Mmes. Bill Foster, H. L. Mehaffey, Billy Joe Wilson, Duane Stallcup, Mac Fullerton, Wilson Brannon, L. C. Bonds, Earl Smith, Arlie Cassle, Dudley Griggs, Jimmy Vaughan, D. C. Andrews, Max Murrell and the hostess, Mrs. R. L. McClung.

Next meeting of Beta Theta chapter will be November 26 in the home of Mrs. Garland Preston.

Woman, Endeavoring to Please Man, May Improve with Man's Suggestions

Most women dress, make up, use perfume and cultivate a winning way to attract and please men, declares Vivian Brown, AP Newsfeatures beauty editor. But sometimes they object when a man offers suggestions as to how they can improve themselves.

Once in a while a man may come up with some very useful pointers for women, however, if they'd but listen, as a letter to this column from a retired Army colonel indicates. His advice appears to be worth passing on to readers for their amusement or amazement.

"A woman should buy the clothes she wants and do her own color matching, but should have an impartial man (not a husband, because he will not look, and not a wolf because he'd like her in anything) look her over. Women stress sex but they are not subtle enough, like a couple of women I noticed just this morning. One was perfect down to the hemline. It was four inches too long to really set off her legs. The other was perfect up to the hemline. 'If the first woman had her hemline up to the level of the other, even her husband would whistle. The second needed to start all over, although she was pretty enough. As it was, I yawned.'

"What women need to shoot for is to set their figures off so that their father or brother would be proud of them, and so that another man realizes he is not their father or brother and looks again and again.

"Women should practice patting children, too, until they develop an automatic smile. A lot of women have pretty figures and nice clothes, but we need them in the store and they have that little hard look of being pre-occupied in their faces.

"My wife is lovely, but when she is occupied with household chores and has that far-away look, I never pay any attention to her.

"The other day I saw a beautiful blonde in a clothing store in Daytona, Florida. She was dressed perfectly with a figure that was out of this world, but she never changed her expression for half an hour. Her face seemed to be frozen. I would have given her some advice as a big brother only my wife was just a few counters down the aisle. If I was sure she wouldn't have slapped my face (the blonde) I'd have given her a few bad minutes so she could improve her personality in the future.

"French girls have developed a look that seems to say they are going to fall right in your arms. But they do not really do that or anything more forward than the American girls, except they manage to avoid that hard look. A man can buy a statue anywhere. He doesn't want to marry one.

"Why doesn't a woman take off into a grocery chain store some day just as if she were breezing into a cocktail party to test my theory? She would smile at all the males she knows in the store, and she'll be amazed how they respond. Then she can keep up that same attitude all day until her husband comes home from work. She'll be surprised at the pleasant reaction.

"In short, it isn't that you girls aren't pretty and do not have good figures. You just murder what you have!"

Literary Club Votes To Decorate Window

Members of the Woman's Literary Club voted to decorate a downtown window for the Christmas holidays when they met in regular session last Friday in the home of Mrs. Stanley Carmichael. The session was conducted by Mrs. Virgil Steele, vice president, in the absence of Mrs. Dick Maberry, the president.

After a brief business session, Mrs. John Ed Day, director, presented an interesting background of Newell Shute, author of the inspiring book, "On the Beach," which was reviewed by Mrs. James Fitzgerald, which tied in with the theme for the program, "A Better Understanding of Our Immediate Predicament."

Hamlin P-TA Sends Representatives to Galveston Meeting

Representatives of the Hamlin Parent-Teacher Association are scheduled to attend the forty-ninth annual convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers when it meets in Galveston this week. "New Adventures in Partnership" is the theme of the convention.

Mrs. W. D. deGrassi of Amarillo, president, will preside at all sessions of the meeting. Four state vice presidents will be elected on Thursday. Nominees are Mrs. John Segulla of El Paso, Mrs. Harry Dudloff of Fort Worth, Mrs. F. H. Paynor of Galveston and Mrs. L. L. Ledger of Coppas Cove.

Convention addresses will be given by James H. Snowden of Wilmington, Delaware, treasurer of the National Congress; Joseph Reid of New York City, executive director of the Child Welfare League of America; and Waurine Walker of Austin of the Texas Education Agency.

Mrs. R. W. Herren of Haskell, president of the Eighteenth District, appears on the convention program as chairman of courtesy resolutions.

Emphasis will be placed on "Youth" throughout the convention sessions, panels, films and reception sessions, presented through panels, films and reports.

Friends Class of First Baptist Church Gives Thanksgiving Dinner

Members of the Friends Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. L. B. Maberry for a Thanksgiving dinner and program.

After the opening prayer by Mrs. A. Spencer a short business session was conducted. It was decided to wrap Christmas packages for an orphan girl.

A special guest of the group, Mrs. Tarlton Willingham, brought a devotion on "Ten Strings of Music." Closing prayer was by Mrs. Ben Parker.

Members present were: Mmes. Jack Wright, I. D. Miller, Everett Gibson, W. W. Fletcher, E. B. Watson, Noel Weaver, L. B. Maberry, Gene Scott, Ernest Lee, Milton Smith, Bruce Lybrand, A. Spencer, Bonnie Bingham, Clyde Grice, Ben Parker, W. H. Carter, A. C. Hall, W. C. Hargrove, and the guest, Mrs. Tarlton Willingham.

Correct Pinning Can Make Basting Easier

To baste straight seam lines, hems and tucks, pin the garment pieces together accurately with sharp, rustless dressmaker pins.

A basting thread should be long enough to reach about twice the distance from your fingers to your elbow. Always use a single thread for basting.

Missionary Lesson Studied by Baptist WMS Group Monday

Members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met at the church Monday afternoon for a missionary lesson. The subject of the program was "Three Knocks in the Night." Attractive posters and maps were used to illustrate the parts on the program.

Mrs. L. A. Joiner led the program and gave pertinent facts about Baptist work in Africa, in South America and in the Orient. Mrs. W. E. Rodgers gave the devotional, then she told the story of an early missionary to India, who heard three knocks in the night and as a result became a medical missionary.

"Insistent Knocks from Africa" was given by Mrs. L. E. Prewitt. Mrs. A. H. Trotter gave the part "Those to the South Knock," and Mmes. Johnny Agnew and S. C. Ferguson talked on "The Orient Still Knocks." The leader of the program closed the program with "Christ Would Enter to Bless."

Anson Drubbed by Champ Seymour in Loop Final 34-21

Although the Anson High School Tigers rolled up 10 first downs to eight for the visiting Seymour Panthers, the county seat boys lost the final District 4-AA grid game to the Seymour crew 34 to 21 Friday night at Anson. The Seymour victory gave the Panthers undisputed claim to the district crown with a perfect record in nine games.

While Hamlin was mopping the Haskell Indians, the Stamford Bulldogs, last year's Class AA champion who had already been virtually eliminated from the race with a loss to Seymour, were on the sidelines with a rest.

The win for Seymour pits the Panthers against District 3-AA Perryton in the bi-district play-off.

The Tigers brought first blood of the game on a passing attack. Jimmy Roberts accounted for two Anson touchdowns and set up the first one to be the star of the game.

Seymour intercepted seven Anson aerials to make most of their scoring. Scoring for the Panthers were Larry Martin (two), Pollard and R. L. McClung (two).

BUT IT'S SLANTED.

Prejudice is the wanted time saver; it enables one to form an opinion without bothering to get the facts.

The foolish man sees happiness in the distance; the wise grows it under his feet.—James Oppenheim.

WINDING UP THEIR FOOTBALL SEASON Friday night at Haskell was the Pied Pipers of Hamlin High School. The crew has had a good year, although the District 4-AA games have been rough. Season record has been seven wins, two losses and a tie out of ten games played for a season percentage of .750. Members of the crew are: Lanier Foster, Carl Max Weaver, John Richey, Gene Murff, Virgil Wilson, Jimmy Bryson, Billy Murff, Richie Smith, Boyce Blankinship and Ken Prewitt, backs; Charles Green, Charles Jenkins, Steve Stephens, Bob Carter and Marcus Fletcher, ends; Mike Brandon and Durwood Boyd, centers; Tommy Bonds, Bob Martin, Victor Criswell, Sam Hodges, Bob Haynes and Stephen Carmichael, guards; Don Drummond, Loyce Fowler, Jimmy Hester and Joe Deel, tackles. Coaches are D. C. Andrews, Jimmy Vaughan and Neil Laminack.

Mighty Mice Defeat Rotan Juniors 41 to 14 In Next to Last Tilt

In the next to last game of the season on the grid calendar of Hamlin Junior High School, played at Rotan last Thursday, the Mighty Mice defeated the Rotan crew by a 41 to 14 count.

Frankie Lee scored the first Hamlin tally on a 75-yard run in the first quarter. The extra point try failed because of a fumble. In the second quarter Lee scored again on a 55-yard traipse in the first play after Babe Shields had returned the kick-off to the 45-yard spot. Lee made the extra point. Stanley Austin went over for the third marker and Frankie again made the extra point. Lee again tallied on an 85-yard run and also went over for the extra point.

In the second quarter Rotan made a touchdown on the first play of the period and dived over for the extra point to make the half-time score 27 to 7.

Lee scored in the third quarter on a sneak play and made the added point. Bill Richey accounted for his last Hamlin score in the third period, and Stanley Austin added the extra point.

Rotan scored also in the third period again on a 63-yard run, and made the extra point.

Pied Pipers Down Haskell 46 to 18 in In Season Climax

Hamlin High School's gridders placed a fitting crown on a fine football season Friday night when they laced the Haskell Indians 46 to 18 in a tilt that had no effect on the outcome of the District 4-AA crown. The victory gave the Pied Pipers a season record of seven wins, two losses and one tie.

Quarterback Billy Murff and Halfback Virgil Wilson, who have teamed up the last few games to lead the attack on grid foes, again starred in Friday night's melee at Haskell. Each tallied two touchdowns.

Murff started the game with a 48-yard keeper around left end in the first quarter. Wilson tallied twice later in the same period on runs of 12 and 20 yards. Lanier Foster booted one of the three extra point tries.

In the second period Carl Max Weaver went over from the six-yard spot for the fourth touchdown after Murff had set up the scene with a long run.

In the final minutes of the first half Murff intercepted a Haskell pass on the 30-yard line and went over the double line. Foster kicked the extra point to make the half-time score 32 to 0.

In the third quarter Don Pennington went over for a Haskell score on a one-yard sneak. Again in the fourth quarter Pennington passed to Jerry Wheatley for eight yards and the Haskell second score.

Again Wilson went over in the fourth quarter on a jump pass from Murff that was good for 35 yards. John Richey kicked the extra point.

Later in the game Wilson went over from the two and Foster converted to end the Hamlin scoring.

Last score for Haskell came in the final 30 seconds of the tilt as

Junior High Grid Crew Beats Anson In Finale 52 to 21

Coach Harry Martin's Junior High gridders capped a perfect season by slugging past the Anson Cubs last Saturday evening at Anson by a 52 to 21 score in a make-up game that had been postponed on account of the bad weather.

Anson's team was severely handicapped by the flu with four first string men missing the game.

Frankie Lee was the outstanding player for Hamlin, scoring three times. Tallying single touchdowns for Hamlin were Bill Richey, Babe Shields, Jerry Duncan, Johnny Stovall and Jimmy Cooper. One counter was scored on a pass from Frankie Lee to Jerry Duncan in the last 30 seconds of the game.

Hamlin's line of Cooper, Duncan, Mendoza, Williams, Jerry Smith, Raley Smith, Curtis Carter, Robert Woodruff and Stanley Austin did good work. Wayne Baize played a good game at quarterback after missing the Rotan game earlier in the week.

The win gave the Hamlin boys a perfect season, with nine wins and no losses.

Seymour Will Meet Perryton in Play-Off

First play-off game for this Central West Texas area of Class AA football will be played Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Childress, when the Seymour Panthers, winners of the District 4-AA title, meet the Perryton gridders, victors of District 3-AA.

Several Hamlin football fans are expected to see the game that features new teams from last year's bi-district play.

Jimmy Don Brock hit Joe Decker with a pass that went 30 yards.

Eleven Hamlin High School students will be attendants at the seventh annual convention of District III of the Texas Teen-Age Library Association when it convenes Saturday at Winters High School. TALA is a state organization of student library workers sponsored by the Texas Library Association. Edwin-Simmons University Director of Library Mabel B. Wilby will speak on "Careers in the Library Field" at the first general assembly. Registration will begin at Winters High School at 9:00 a. m., and the first general session at 10:00 a. m. Guided tours are to be conducted through the business administration department, the library and the homemaking cottage, followed by a luncheon in the school cafeteria. Second general assembly is scheduled for 1:00 p. m., and the convention will adjourn at 2:15 p. m. This year's convention theme is "Explore with Books." Following members of the Hamlin Bookkeepers Club, school library club, will attend: Ginger Rabjohn, Joyce Hines, Wynama Hayes, Gloria Rodgers, Patricia Branscum, Sandra Stuart, Deloris Carter, Barbara Butler, Laretha Hill, Richard Winegart and Ronnie Fleckenstein. They will be accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. Zelma Hulse, and C. F. Cook, superintendent of schools. Ginger Rabjohn, president of the local library club, is also president of District III Teen-Age Library Association, and will preside at the convention.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Still Fall

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending November 9, 1957, were 24,274 compared with 23,791 cars for the same week in 1956, reflecting a continuing decline from the year ago carloadings. Cars received from connections totaled 12,270 compared with 13,229 for the same week in 1956. Total cars moved were 36,544 compared with 37,020 for the same week in 1956. Santa Fe handled a total of 37,620 cars in the preceding week this year.

History of Gypsum Given by Official In Rotary Talk

Background of the gypsum industry and information about the Hamlin plant of the Celotex Corporation furnished basis for an interesting and informative program at last Wednesday's meeting of the Hamlin Rotary Club at the oil mill guest house. Stan Sheppard, director of personnel at the plant, was the speaker. A Chinaman discovered some of the possibilities of gypsum more than 4,000 years ago, declared Sheppard. The coolie, he said, was camping on a huge white rock where he built a fire and learned that the heat powdered the rock, then when his fire extinguishing water was poured on the fire it was reformed into a hard substance again. Use of gypsum then was traced through early forms of plastering in Egypt and then in scores of other uses through the years. Scope of the Celotex operations was revealed with the assertion by Sheppard that the concern ranks 317th in size of assets among firms of the world. It has 8,900 stockholders and 4,800 employees, some 200 of whom live in and around Hamlin. The Celotex official outlined the work of the local plant, and displayed some samples of products, showing some fire-proof, lightweight roof decking that is becoming popular with builders. He declared that the Hamlin plant is a big factor in the economy of the community. Selling costs, he said, had increased 30 per cent since 1940, while manufacturing costs including labor have increased 400 per cent. Dudley Griggs and Rev. Edmund Robb were installed as new members of the Rotary Club. Tate May, a charter member, presided at initiation ceremonies. Besides Sheppard, other guests at the Wednesday luncheon were K. K. Francis of Stamford, James Ross of Abilene, Jim Shipman of Houston and Buddy Wade and Virgil Wilson, Junior Rotarian, of Hamlin.

Texas Baptist Group Opposes Integration

A resolution opposing any form of integration of the races was adopted last Wednesday by unanimous vote of members of the Missionary Baptist Association for Texas at their annual meeting at Mineral Wells. Rev. R. B. Tiner, pastor of the Sunset Baptist Church, and Rev. G. C. Henry, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, were among attendants. The resolution, which will be sent to the heads of state and national government, opposed also the use of federal troops to enforce any decision of the Supreme Court calling for integration.

Trade in Hamlin

... where shopping is a social affair

You Owe It to Yourself

... to shop home area stores first

We often accept some common fallacy as a fact ... without bothering to look for proof. One of these you've often heard ... and possibly uttered ... is that prices are lower in city stores.

Yet ... every day ... people bring home bargains from the city and later find they could have bought the same thing for less money in their home stores.

You owe it to yourself ... to your family ... to your neighbors ... and to your own future ... to shop your home area stores first. More often than not, their prices are lowest; always their values are best ... when you count service, convenience, and the better reward for your labor that comes with more trade volume where you make your living.

The people who serve you in your local stores are your friends and neighbors ... interested in you and in your problems; not in your business alone. Your trade keeps them here, to work with you for community betterment, to help you pay for better schools and churches and a happier social environment, to be at your side when difficulties arise.

It Pays to Buy Where You Live!

Of all the business establishments in the world—only those in Hamlin are sincerely interested in the future of Hamlin and in the future of YOU who live here . . .

Caution with Common Cold Often Can Help Avoid Major Illness, Says Medicine

Now that school days are routine and winter is starting to push fall aside, there will probably be the usual increase in communicable diseases common to children. Hamlin area residents are reminded by Dr. Henry A. Hoile, commissioner of the Texas State Department of Health.

Ten From Hamlin Among Students Now At Hardin-Simmons

Ten students from Hamlin are among the more than 1,500 students attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene this fall. They include: Bobby Eugene Bingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bingham of Route 3; Barbara Ann Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Durham; James Robert Feagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Feagan; James Walter Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Freeman; William S. Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Hanna of El Paso; Jo Ann Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Holmes of Route 1; Mickey K. Scott, son of Mrs. F. Scott of 153 Southwest Fourth Street; Rowland Gene Steele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Steele of Route 2; Franklin D. Willis of 530 Northwest Avenue; and Carl Travis Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young.

The students are members of the following campus organization: Bingham is a member of the Cowboy Band and Circle K. Barbara is a member of Cowgirls and Rodeo Club. Mickey is a member of Pi Gamma Mu. Carl is a member of the Future Teachers of America.

The fall semester got underway September 20. The first university holiday will be Thanksgiving, to be observed November 27 through December 1. Students will leave the campus at noon December 21 for the Christmas vacation and return on January 5.

Awards of $182,682.52 Paid by Fair to Youths

Checks totaling $182,682.52 have been mailed to 1,235 Texas Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys and girls who participated in junior livestock and poultry auction sales during the 1957 State Fair of Texas.

In the junior livestock auction 528 steers were sold for $142,991.23, 233 lambs for $7,427.27 and 533 pigs for $23,891.10. There were 300 buyers taking part.

Youngsters taking part in the sales came from more than 200 of the 254 counties in Texas. The 1,235 who participated was the largest number ever to be represented in the auctions.

Bald eagles are so named because of the effect of the white feathers on their heads.

SETTING THE PATTERN.

A quiet rancher who had just gotten married was driving his bride to the ranch in his buggy.

Only a short while after starting, the mare pulling the buggy stumbled on a stone. "That's once," mumbled the rancher quietly but loud enough that his wife could hear. A little farther the mare stumbled again. "That's twice," he said, a little louder this time. When the mare tripped a third time the rancher shouted, "That's three times," and jumped out and shot the mare.

Upset by this unexpected display of temper, his new wife gave out with a searing tongue lashing. Her rancher husband, however, seemed unmoved and heard her out patiently. When she finished he looked her straight in the eye. His only words were, "That's once."

Cotton Farmers Warned That Good Planting Seed to Be Scarce Next Year

Hamlin area cotton farmers are warned that good cotton planting seed with high germination may be scarce next spring. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, said the situation which has developed is due to late plantings last spring and the wet weather which has hit all sections of the Cotton Belt during the harvest season. The situation, he added, is even worse in the eastern part of the Cotton Belt and seed of certain varieties are almost certain to be in short supply.

Elliott advised cotton growers to save and carefully store any good quality seed of known varieties. This, he said, is one of those seasons when planting seed even with a low moisture content cannot be placed in storage and forgotten about until next spring. A continuous check on stored seed is suggested.

PATIENCE IN RIGHT PLACE.

A young father was pushing a baby carriage in which an infant was screaming. Wheeling the howling baby along he kept murmuring gently "Easy now, Donald. Keep calm, Donald. Steady, boy. It's all right, Donald."

A mother passing by paused to say, "You certainly know how to talk to an upset child—quietly and gently." Then, leaning over the carriage she said, "What seems to be the trouble, Donald?"

"Oh, no," said the father. "He's Henry. I'm Donald."

Here are Elliott's suggestions for handling seed: Check seed closely for damage before storing and store those with high germination (80 per cent is very good) and low free fatty acid content. Seed saved for bulk storage, he said, should contain less than 12 per cent moisture unless good drying and cooling facilities are available. Small quantities of seed should be turned and sacked.

Large quantities of bulk stored seed, he said, should be cured by aeration to maintain quality. A portable fan and duct system can be used to draw air through the seed. He warned that a moisture content of 13.6 per cent is the critical point beyond which storage may become disastrous. Every effort, he said, should be made to bring the moisture content down to 10 or 11 per cent on seed in storage. Drawing air through the seed must be done during daylight hours and only in fair weather and preferably between 10:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m., he said.

A germination test should be run on the seed before planting as an aid in determining how much seed to plant, he said. No germination test should be made until the seed have been in storage for at least 30 days, which is the normal rest period of freshly ginned seed. Finally, Elliott suggested a visit with the local county agent for more details on cotton seed storage problems.

TORNADO LEVELS HOMES—A tornado that roared out of the night cut this swath through a housing development at Orange. At least 12 persons were killed by twisters that struck at the southeast corner of Texas and portions of Louisiana and Mississippi.

Ground Mesquite Brush Makes Good Feed Roughage

Hamlin area ranchers are gratified to know that mesquite wood ground into a meal is a source of bulk in rations for cattle when other roughages are scarce and relatively high in price.

Yearling steers fed a ration containing 7.2 pounds of ground mesquite wood gained 2.2 pounds per head daily in feeding tests at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur, said P. T. Marion, station superintendent. Similar steers fed cottonseed hulls instead of mesquite meal gained 2.29 pounds daily. The feeding period was 140 days.

In a more recent test lasting 112 days yearling steers fed a ration containing 12.23 pounds of ground mesquite wood per head daily gained an average of 2.54 pounds daily, compared with 2.71 pounds gained daily by steers fed a silage ration, he added.

Steers fed hte mesquite meal made a higher net profit on the basis of $10 per ton for ground mesquite and $18 per ton for cottonseed hulls than those fed the cottonseed hull ration.

A chemical analysis shows that mesquite meal has a higher protein, fiber and calcium content

Ray Walker Goes to East Texas as Agent

Ray Walker, agent in training in Jones County for the past five months, has been transferred to Carthage in Panola County, where he has been named assistant agent, according to Bill Lehmborg, county agent. Effective date of the transfer was November 18.

His wife and young son, Ray Jr., accompanied him.

While in Jones County, Ray took an active part in all extension activities and had completed his training schedule by early September. His time was spent working with both adults and 4-H Club members.

TOUGH CURE.

"Hard work will make you forget your worries," says a physician. And breaking a leg will make you forget a headache.

than cottonseed hulls, but a slightly lower fat and carbohydrate content.

Carotene (vitamin A) also is in the mesquite meal, but this essential element is not present or is very low in quantity in many dry roughages.

Mesquite to be used should be green stems and branches one to three inches in diameter, and should be allowed to cure for five to seven days before grinding. Curing will make grinding easier and will lower the moisture content, eliminating molding after grinding.

The wood apparently may be harvested at any time of the year, but it usually has the highest nutritive value in the spring before leaf development begins.

Extension Council Plans Program for Year for Agents

To plan the 1958 county program for the extension workers, the Jones County extension council met in Anson recently, according to Bill Lehmborg, county agent, and Mary Y. Newberry, home demonstration agent. Olin Potts, chairman, presided.

Committee reports were reviewed and adopted. A review of accomplishments of the 1957 program was given by the agents.

The following officers were elected for 1958: Birger Haterius of Ericksdahl, chairman; L. W. Larson of Ericksdahl, vice chairman; and Karen Irvin of Noodle, secretary.

Council members were named to fill vacancies of those whose terms had expired. Those named included Mrs. Maxey Harvey of Willow Creek, L. W. Stenholm of Ericksdahl, Fred B. Moore Jr. of Hamlin and Mark Holloway of Anson.

Those attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harms of Stamford, Johnie Agnew of Hamlin, Birger Haterius and L. W. Larson of Ericksdahl, Olin Potts of Anson and the agents.

Safety Official Urges Inspection Of All Autos Soon

With only one-tenth of the motor vehicles in Texas inspected for the year 1958, automobile and trucks owners of the Hamlin area and the rest of the state were urged this week to obtain their new inspection stickers before the holiday season.

Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, called upon motorists to obtain their 1958 inspection stickers as soon as possible in order to alleviate the last minute rush on the 4,200 inspection stations in Texas.

Garrison said only about 450,000 of the 4,000,000 registered vehicles in the state have been inspected and approved.

"While this number exceeds that for the same period last year," he said, "the present rate of inspection will not prevent inspection stations from being rushed again during the last few weeks of the inspection period ending April 15, 1958. Vehicle owners who complete their inspections before the holiday period will avoid the inconvenience of waiting at the inspection stations.

The state police director also said that early inspections will be of benefit to motorists who plan trips during the Thanksgiving to New Year period by eliminating mechanical defects.

COUP DE GRACE.

Telegraph messengers are often called upon to exercise wily diplomacy.

One once proved himself a past master at the diplomatic game of flattery when he entered an elevator and forgot to take off his hat. There was only one other passenger in the elevator, but she was a rather fussy, middle aged woman, and she asked:

"Don't you take off your hat to ladies?"

"Only to the old ones, madam," he replied with a little bow.

The Herald has carbon paper.

FOR GENERAL DELIVERY.

A couple of recruits, fresh from training camp, were sitting in a shell hole while a barrage whizzed over them.

"What about you, Harvey," said the first, "aren't you scared?"

"Not me," boasted the second. "I just got a hunch that none of them's got my name on it."

"I'm not worried about my name on any shell," replied the first, "but what bothers me is, suppose there's one marked, 'To whom it may concern.'"

All states now have stringent laws against dueling.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Air suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come on in and see our Swept-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.

Hamlin Welfare Group Services 2 Calls Last Year

Thirty-two calls were serviced by the Hamlin welfare fund administered by the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance. It was reported in the annual summary by C. C. Bailey, chairman of the committee in charge of administering the fund, during the past year.

Total of $158.72 in cash was disbursed to aid local residents in destitute circumstances and transients who were stranded here or were in dire need, Bailey said.

With a balance of $127.53 on hand at the beginning of the year, last December 1, the funds were supplemented by donations from various sources, the treasurer said. There is now a balance of $73.81 in the fund.

The welfare fund is primarily raised by donations at the annual union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance. Additional funds will be sought at the annual service set

Jerry Smith Finishes Radio Repair Course At Army Signal Base

Specialist Third Class Jerry G. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aure G. Smith of Route 1, McCaulley, was graduated November 8 from the field radio repair course at the Army's Southeastern Signal School at Fort Gordon, Georgia, according to a release to The Herald from the base.

The 25-week course trained Specialist Smith in the fundamentals of electricity and radio, the service and repair of radio transmitters and receivers, and the use of radio testing equipment.

Specialist Smith entered the Army in February, 1957, and received basic training at Fort Bliss, near El Paso.

A member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, Smith attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock. He was employed by the Santa Fe Railway at Slaton before entering the Army. His wife, Lou, lives at Augusta, Georgia.

County One of Few To Pay Officials in Fees, Lions Told

"Jones County is one of the few counties of the state where fees of office more than pay for the salaries of the county officials," declared Gene Spurgin Jr., county clerk of Jones County, when he spoke at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

The clerk reviewed operations of the various county offices, and discussed the sources of income and expenditures of county funds through the county government. He said that in 1946 it was necessary to transfer $18,000 from other funds in order to meet the salaries of county officials, and since then fees of the various offices have increased to the point that now they more than pay this portion of the county government cost. Receipts last year from all sources, he said, were $468,278.75, while disbursements were $508,321.39. In explaining this particular year of spending the said the purchase of right-of-way for highways was the big item.

All county officials, he said, are paid a flat salary of $4,800 per year, except the county judge, tax assessor and collector, who receive more, and the county treasurer, who receives less.

Buddy Wells was initiated as a new member of the club by Lion Tamer James Josey and Ed Croan. Besides the county clerk, other guest at the Tuesday luncheon was Sam Gorman of Abilene.

Rise of Frank Sinatra in Show Business Has Been Phenomenal Film Reveals

Frank Sinatra, who won the highest acting prize of all, an Academy Award, for a memorable dramatic performance as Montgomery Clift's Army pal in "From Here to Eternity," portrays another "best friend" in an equally colorful role, both serious and comic, in "Not As a Stranger," Morton Thompson's best selling novel, which is playing next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ferguson Theater.

Sinatra is cast as Alfred Boone, Robert Mitchum's fellow student and later contemporary at medicine, in the romantic drama.

Sinatra's career in show business and Hollywood has been marked by unexpectedness. In 1938, at 21, he was making $15 a week as a singing waiter. Five years later, at $25,000 a week, he was the idol of then ation's bobby-soxers.

Appearing on Major Bowes' radio amateur hour with a quartet,

Frank won first prize with his rendition of "Night and Day."

He started in radio, singing on 18 sustaining programs in Jersey City, Newark and New York, and then took a job which he considered more stable, as singing emcee and head-writer at the Rustic Cabin for $15 a week. Harry James caught his act and signed him for $75 a week to sing with the James band. During an engagement in Los Angeles when James was having booking delays Tommy Dorsey offered Frank $150 a week and James agreed that he should join Dorsey.

One night Paramount Theater Director Robert Weitman went over to Newark's Mosque Theater to "see why throngs of teen-agers were yelling and swooning all over the place." This led to a four-week engagement at the Paramount for Sinatra, with Benny Goodman's orchestra, to a completely sold-out house. By now Frank was the hottest act in the show business.

Following additional appearances and the pressing of records that sold more than 1,000,000 each Sinatra in 1943 starred in the movie, "Higher and Higher." Hollywood awarded him a special

Record Christmas Mailing Prompts Early Dispatching

Predicting that the Christmas mail this year will set an all-time record, even exceeding the record set in 1956, Postmaster Perry Sparks announced his 1957 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign this week.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, the postmaster reminds us, "It's later than you think!" Most folks have a tendency to wait until December rolls around before they give their Christmas mailing plans a thought.

The postmaster further suggested that right now is the time to take the following steps: Check your Christmas card lists very carefully—make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

He said also that it is a good idea to stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape for use in securely wrapping your Christmas gifts. If you'd like to include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package, just add the appropriate first class mail postage to the postage for the package itself; thus insuring simultaneous arrival of your gift and greeting.

Texas Farm Bureau Record Membership

Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Farm Bureau, revealed at Dallas this week that the organization ended its fiscal year with a membership of 72,680, the largest in its history.

In a report to the opening session of the twenty-fourth annual Farm Bureau convention, Barbour said that figure represented a gain of 2,521 members over 1956 and marked the fifth consecutive year for the state's largest farm organization to show a gain.

Another Day of Oil Flow Allowed During December

One more day of oil production has been promised producers in the month of December, but royalty owners and producers found little to be happy about in the maintained cut in allowances for the month set last week by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The commission set December oil production based on only 12 days, setting the allowable at 2,987,415 barrels a day.

This was a drop of 60,151 barrels from November.

The decrease in the allowable results in the next month being one day longer. Two major oil company buyers asked for 13 days and two said 11 days would handle their needs.

No general comments were made by independents at the state-wide prorator hearing.

Chairman Olin Culberson of the commission told one witness who was complaining about imports that "It's my personal opinion that the importers are choking us to death, but we can take no official consideration of this."

The allowable, excepting October's 2,964,062 barrels, was the lowest since it fell to 2,936,945 barrels August 8, 1955.

Mechanical Pickers To Gather Cotton

Many farmers of the Hamlin territory are getting ready to put mechanical pickers into the fields within a few days in an effort to salvage the cotton crop that six weeks ago looked like a bumper one. The crop still is expected to be the best the area has raised in 10 years.

Two-County Singing Slated at Stamford

Singers and song lovers of the section are invited to attend the regular Haskell and Jones County singing Sunday afternoon at the Foursquare Church in Stamford, according to members of the arrangements committee. Singing will get underway at 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The public is invited.

NAVY MAN HOME.

Leon Millhorn, son of Mrs. Bunny Millhorn of Hamlin, is home visiting with relatives and friends. With more than four years of service in the U. S. Navy behind him, young Millhorn has been stationed in the Japan area for the past two years. He has a 27-day leave before being reassigned.

Hamlin Future Farmers of America Teams Win Three Firsts at District

Hamlin Future Farmers of America won three first places in district leadership competition last Monday at Stamford. Twenty-four vocational agriculture boys participated to comprise Hamlin's five teams.

The three contests won by local students were junior and senior chapter conducting, and radio broadcasting. Other teams entered by Hamlin were senior farm skills demonstration and junior FFA quiz, which placed fourth and ninth respectively. Eighteen schools compose the Stamford FFA district organization.

Herald to Be Printed Earlier Next Week

Next week's issue of The Herald will be printed one day earlier than usual, being put in the mails Tuesday evening instead of the usual Wednesday evening.

Advertisers and those with news intended for the paper are asked to please prepare their copy early. Monday noon will be the deadline for both advertising and news copy.

Cash Prizes Posted For Winners in City Decorations

Cash prizes will be offered to the best decorated Christmas windows prepared by clubs of the city, according to officials of the Hamlin Woman's Forum, sponsoring organization. Vacant store windows of the business section will be used as locale for the decorations that will feature the Christmas season.

Each of the nine participating clubs of the Forum will be responsible for a window in the project. Owners of homes in Hamlin also are being urged to decorate their residences and yards for the Christmas season.

Prizes of $5 for first place and $2.50 for second place are being offered in each division.

Deadline for decorating windows to be eligible for the prizes will be December 10, it is announced.

Judging of the windows will be done between December 15 and December 21 by out-of-town judges, officials of the Forum declare. Windows will be judged on five points: Theme, originality, beauty, neatness and effectiveness.

Supervisor Praises DePriest HE Cottage

DePriest Colored School at Hamlin has one of the finest home-making departments in this section of West Texas, declared Mrs. W. L. D. Glass, area supervisor of the State Department of Education after her first visit to the new homelike cottage at the school last Friday.

Mrs. Glass inspected other departments of the school, and declared to Principal E. S. Morgan that good work is being done by the school.

T-P Coal & Oil Asks For Salt Water Order

Special order approving a water flood project for the oil field west of Hamlin is being sought by the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company. The project would dispose of salt water through its No. 1 Gray in the Hamlin Field of Jones County.

Hearing on the TP application has been set for next Wednesday, November 27, before the Texas Railroad Commission at Austin.

Thanksgiving Service Set Wednesday by Alliance

ALMOST A TOTAL LOSS was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Willis, former young couple of Hamlin, whose home at Orange was in the path of the storms that whipped Texas Gulf Coast cities 10 days ago. The picture above shows the apartment in which the Willis couple and their young son, Keith, were living when the tornado struck. Both the couple sustained some bruises and scratches, and their baby was not injured. Friends of the family helped them set up housekeeping in another section of the city. Mrs. Willis is the former Joyce Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Q. L. Cooper of Hamlin.

Methodist Pastor To Be Speaker at City-Wide Service

An inspirational program of cooperative thanks is being planned for the annual union Thanksgiving service being sponsored by the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance. The services will be conducted next Wednesday evening, November 27, at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Edmund W. Robb, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker. Choirs from the Oak Grove Colored Baptist Church and the First Baptist Church will furnish special music.

Congregational singing will be under the direction of Bill Davis of Abilene, musical director of the First Baptist Church. Ministers of member churches of the alliance will serve as ushers and lead in various aspects of the service.

During the service the traditional Hamlin welfare fund offering will be taken. This fund is designated to assist needy residents and transients. During the past year the offering proved inadequate, and the fund had to be subsidized from other sources, the treasurer reports. Consequently, everyone is urged to do his best in this offering since this is the only community welfare enterprise. A report by the treasurer is contained in another story in today's Herald.

All residents of Hamlin and the surrounding area are urged to take part in the union service, declare officials of the alliance.

Farm-to-Market Road Program Expected to Grow

Jones County commissioners and the county judge returned last week from the state convention of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association reassured that the future of the farm-to-market road program will continue, according to Commissioner Johnnie Agnew of Hamlin.

Those attending the convention at Laredo last week were County Judge H. G. (Pete) Andrews and Commissioners Lem Ruark, J. E. Touchstone and Johnnie Agnew. One of the speakers at the convention, Marshall Formby, said that $52,000,000 has been set aside for the farm-to-market roads for the next two years—more than at any time in the past. He said the program is not stopping but is growing.

Jones County's contention that the county should not be required to pay gas tax on trucks and machinery used to build roads was presented to the resolutions committee by Touchstone. The committee favored a resolution eliminating the tax which was carried to the floor by unanimous vote. The matter will be presented to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Elimination of that tax would save the county several thousand dollars each year.

The County Judges and Commissioners Association represents the counties in legislative matters, and after three years was successful in getting the state to assume responsibility of paying one-half the cost of rights-of-way on all highways except farm roads. It will become a law early in 1958.

Town Will Observe Thanksgiving Nov. 28

Thanksgiving Day, next Thursday, November 28, will be observed as a business and school holiday in Hamlin.

Stamford Schools will have a two-day holiday, November 28 and 29, dismissing Wednesday afternoon for the remainder of the week.

November 28 was one of the dates for business holidays set up by business firms first of the year in voting conducted by the Hamlin Planning Board.

ASC Funds Still Available to Farmers For Stubble Mulching

Funds are still available to aid producers in carrying out the stubble mulching practices under provisions of the 1957 ACP program, according to M. S. Jones, county office manager of the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

This practice consists of performing tillage operations in a manner that will leave the stubble on the surface of the soil, thereby increasing its permeability and affording protection from wind and water erosion.

Producers who plan to carry out this practice before December 31, 1957, and who wish to apply for government cost-share assistance should, says Jones, file their applications at the ASC office in Anson at the earliest possible date. The government cost-share assistance on the practice amounts to 50 cents per acre.

Revival Rescheduled At Sunset Church

Revival meeting that was scheduled two weeks ago at the Sunset Baptist Church in North Hamlin, and postponed because of the flu epidemic that was making its rounds in the community, has been reset for December 1-8, according to R. B. Tiner, pastor of the church.

Rev. A. L. Meador of Waxahachie, president of the Missionary Baptist Association of Texas, will be evangelist for the eight-day series of services.

Good Crowd Attends Fairview Ordination

About 15 visiting pastors and deacons were present Sunday afternoon at the Fairview Baptist Church, seven miles southeast of Hamlin, for the ordination services of two deacons.

Questioning of the candidates, Winston Gray and Woodrow Goodwin, for the council was led by the pastor of the church, Rev. M. E. Randolph.

Rev. Dan Oglesby of the Tuxedo church gave the charge to the deacons, and the ordination sermon was preached by Rev. K. E. Woolley of Benjamin, former pastor of the Fairview congregation.

GOOD HIGHWAYS TODAY CAN ASSURE TOMORROW

"Drive modern. Get hep to 1957 highway techniques." J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, used that seemingly flippant remark this week to call motorists' attention to a subject about which he is deadly serious—super highway driving. His comment was made as he discussed the share-the-road program which the Texas Safety Association and the National Safety Council are conducting.

This program is part of the nation-wide back-the-attack-on-traffic-accidents campaign. The back-the-attack theme is slow down and live!

"Super highways are as modern as tomorrow, yet many people attempt to drive on them with yesterday's driving know-how," said Musick. "With out-moded driving habits you're a menace to yourself and all the other super highway drivers."

He pointed out that the greatest difference between super highway driving and ordinary driving is the high sustained speed possible on the super highway. "Many drivers who are not accustomed to such speed are at first unable to handle a swiftly moving car," he said. But they step right out with the speediest. On the other hand, some novices hang on grimly to their 30-mile-or-so habit and cause confusion and pile-ups on the throughway.

"Keeping in step is a must on a super highway," Musick declared. "With traffic moving at such a fast clip anything that disrupts the smooth flow is likely to endanger several cars. Remember, collisions on these roads often involve more than two cars."

He pointed out that the two most dangerous factors about speed are (1) that if danger arises, you have difficulty stopping quickly enough to avoid an accident; and (2) speed increases the severity of an accident.

"Another serious danger of the super highway," he said, "is highway hypnosis—a sort of trance induced by the monotony of straight roads, constant speed and the hum of the motor. The best way to avoid that is to take frequent rest stops for a short nap, a brief walk or some refreshment."

He advised drivers to make alertness their watch-word when they drive on super highways or average roads. "You've got to learn to anticipate dangerous situations," he warned. "Keep a constant watch on the road ahead and check in your rear-view mirror frequently."

Musick said that enforcement agencies through the nation are stepping up traffic law enforcement on city streets, county and inter-city roads and super highways. "Such action has been demanded by the public," he said, "and undoubtedly will improve the driving situation for all users, whether they be local citizens, visitors or through travelers."

Reluctant Empire: Texas

The biggest state of the forty-eight is the subject of a searching examination in a new book, "Reluctant Empire: The Mind of Texas" by George Fuernmann, which is being released this week.

Fuernmann, a columnist for The Houston Post and author of "Houston: Land of the Big Rich," gives a candid picture of the faults and virtues of a state whose importance in its own eyes is notorious, but whose importance to the rest of the nation is not always recognized.

Readers of "Reluctant Empire" will learn that Texas is the state where:

1. The big millionaires contribute to the political campaigns in other states.
2. The Democratic leaders of the House and Senate come from, yet it can be described as "Democratic in state politics, Republican in national politics."
3. A mural was removed from the library and Picasso was censored in Dallas.
4. Houston is the largest city in the United States with racial segregation, and a town in which the Minute Women of the U. S. have attempted thought control.
5. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has been enjoined from other "educational and charitable activities within the state."
6. The Baptist convention has more influence on the state than oil, which it resembles in its reluctance to yield. "The state's fear of the United Nations and its opposition to federal rights arise in part from Baptist convictions."
7. The church life is based on organized Christianity and orthodox Protestantism, and religion is not so much personal as group.
8. Commercial opportunism has made it seem the most foolish and provincial of all states.

Concludes Fuernmann: "Texas is to the rest of the United States as the United States is to the rest of the Western World: Younger, full of pep, an irritant, annoying in its self-assurance, and thought by older and perhaps wiser regions to need counsel. The state is as eager to be counseled by the rest of the United States as the nation is to be counseled by the continent."

"Reluctant Empire" contains many drawings by E. M. Schiweitz, the well known Texas artist.

Married couples who play bridge as partners are usually congenial or are past caring.

Dependability Is Vital

Dependability is a trait in human beings which is often under-rated and which should be cultivated by every young man and young woman—and others, too, for that matter.

Today's young men and women can take a job or leave it, and be fired from one job and find another, and can usually find a way to obtain enough money to get by on one way or another. All of this is good, except for the fact that an easy life does not necessarily build character.

We have seen that soft, easy living has prevented America's youth from being good physical specimens. Recent tests involving both American and European boys show that the Europeans are in far better physical shape than we are. So, we must conclude that an easy life does not develop the qualities of self-sufficiency and dependability as widely as these characteristics are developed in tougher times.

Perhaps it is better to have the easy times and the advantages that go with them rather than tight times. It is nevertheless desirable to see the present generation develop the qualities of reliability and dependability which so many older people seem to have.

It will be noted that many of the top executives in the business world are far more eager to perform a personal service for a small profit than many of today's youngsters, who seem to lack the fire and the will to please that are so necessary if one is to stay on top during both good times and bad.

A newspaper has by its very nature accepted a public trust that it will print impartially all of the news worthy of publication without fear or favor. What is considered news, and how it is presented is part of this public trust and is based in large measure upon the attitudes and tastes of the locale and times.—Owatonna, Minnesota, Photo News.

With the public debt of the United States now over $274,000,000,000, and with gold reserves of only $21,793,000,000, the future of the nation financially should require a building up of our gold reserves. An incentive is needed to speed up the mining of gold in our idle U. S. gold mining districts. It would be good business on the part of Washington to invite miners to sell their newly mined gold to the government at a price that would allow a profit.—Denver, Colorado, Mining Record.

RECALLING Other Years

★ Being news items taken from old files of Your Home - Town Newspaper, The Herald.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

News of interest in the Hamlin community of 30 years ago included the following, reproduced from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated November 18, 1927:

A little daughter arrived Friday, November 11, to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Colwell.

Next Tuesday the High School Choral Club will present on opera, "The Miniature Lady." In the cast are Miss Ballew, J. B. Adkins, Milton Wilson, Wilma Hall, Ruth Wilson, Claude Chastain, Alice Maberry, Koleta Newsum, Lowell Ballew, J. D. Greenway and Gladys Sharpe.

Among Hamlin men on deer hunts this week are J. C. Greenway, Starr Inzer, Elmer Feagan, L. D. Harden, Dr. P. A. Fowler and John Ed Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate May and little son, James Tate, visited at Coleman Friday and Saturday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Printed as news in the Hamlin vicinity 20 years ago were the following items, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated November 19, 1937:

Another gap on highways out of Hamlin was closed this week with completion of work on Highway 4 north of Hamlin to the Fisher County line.

Rev. W. H. Hanks, pastor of the First Methodist Church, is away this week attending the Northwest Texas Conference at Childress.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nesbitt of Lincoln, Nebraska, are guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Fowler.

A killing frost came to the Hamlin section Wednesday morning November 14 is about the average date for killing frost, old-timers declare.

W. C. Russell spent Monday in Dallas on business. He was accompanied as far as Fort Worth by Mrs. Russell, who is taking a special music course at the Southwestern Baptist Seminary.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Among items of interest in the area 10 years ago were the following news briefs, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated November 21, 1947:

Rainfall totaling 1.92 inches that fell in the Hamlin area since last Thursday brought smiles to farmers and ranchers of the territory.

Ansons Tigers drowned the Pied Piper football crew last Friday night in the rain by a 26 to 2 score.

"Cactus Jack" Ellison and Al Johnson, Hamlin young men playing with the Hardin-Simmons University team at Abilene, are doped for berths on the all-Border Conference team.

A Hamlin party of six deer hunters bagged six deer first of the week. In the group were Ted Russell, E. J. Whaley, Jack Russell, Herman McBride, Art and Stanley Carmichael. Holly Toler and Thad Harden also are reported to have bagged several deer with another party.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Considered news in the Hamlin community five years ago were the items below, reprinted from the issue of The Hamlin Herald November 21, 1952:

Seven members of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce are slated to attend a conference Monday at Abilene with the Texas Highway Commission to discuss the needs of Highway 92 between Hamlin and Stamford.

Final tabulations of the voting in the November 5 general election give Dwight D. Eisenhower 53 per cent of the votes in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blanton Jr. are announcing the arrival of a new daughter on November 4.

Total of 1,114 suggestions for projects of the Chamber of Commerce were made in the recent clinic, according to R. T. Spaulding, CC manager.

ONE YEAR AGO.

Happenings in the territory a year ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated October 18, 1956:

Difficulties in securing a widened right-of-way for Highway 92 from Hamlin to Tuxedo have been encountered. The Lone Star Gas Company's main gas line is within the boundaries of the proposed project, and the concern has not been cooperative in moving the line, say county commissioners Court members.

Hamlin FFA boys hold a good lead for district honors in area contests, according to T. C. Blankinship and Harold Eades, sponsors of the boys.

Broad Demand for Stocker and Feeder Livestock Features Monday Trading

Cattle and calves at Fort Worth Monday again met broad demand from stocker and feeder buyers, and prices on replacement kinds were fully steady to stronger, declares Ted Goudly, special market reporter for The Herald, in his weekly market summary. His release continues: Almost any kind of animal that appeared capable of going back to the pasture and making a gain or raising a calf moved to stocker buyers at prices well beyond the reach of the packer contingent.

This feature of the trade put a strong prop under most cattle and calves, and defeated efforts of any buyers who sought to lower costs. Fed cattle were very scarce and about steady.

Comparative prices included: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $19 to $22, and common and medium offerings sold from $14 to $19. Fat cows cashed at $13 to $14.50, and canners and cutters cashed at $8.50 to $13. Bulls brought $11 to $16.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $19 to $21.50, some baby beefs of yearling weights above that range. Common and medium offerings sold from $14 to $19. Culls cashed at $11 to $13. Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $20 to $24.50, and heifer calves sold from $22 downward. Stocker steer yearlings of good and choice grades sold from $18 to $22. Stocker cows cashed at $10 to $16, and some pairs sold with the 866-pound cows at $14.75, and the 323-pound calves at $21.

For the past 25 years or longer a steadily increasing flow of cattle and calves from Texas and other Western areas into the once cotton and tobacco empire of the South and Southeast has built up steadily. Reasons for the increased interest in livestock was primarily the removal of acreage from those basic crops under acreage allotments. Tens of thousands of these were shipped from Fort Worth.

Soil building crops became more popular, and the best way to market such roughage was with cattle or sheep.

In the recent drought years Texas and other Western areas were forced to cut and cut again the numbers of livestock they could carry. Then the drought began to break. This fall livestock production prospects are excellent in view of recent rains, and lots of cold weather pasture in the form of wheat, oats and winter cover crops is assured.

Texas is ready to get back into the cattle and sheep business! This situation has led to a reversal of the flow of livestock suitable for restocking from West to East, to East to West.

Thousands of cows, calves and yearlings are moving Eastward from the farms and plantations to the Great Plains country, where once again the ground is moist and promises to once again sustain the accustomed millions of head of cattle and sheep.

Recent days have seen thousands of these "Southerners" on the yards at Fort Worth. The yard trade in the dealer division is the most active it has been in a score of years as stockmen shop around for cattle and sheep to harvest the bumper crop of green feed.

The tide has turned, and the flow is reversed, and should conditions continue favorable Texas' cattle and sheep population is going to be sharply higher in very short order due to this "Southern transference!"

The trade was slow in the hog yards at Fort Worth Monday. The 12 major markets reported more than 26,000 more hogs around the circuit than a week ago, and elimination of daylight saving time delayed usual reports from most North and East markets an additional hour.

However, trade developed 23 cents lower, with most choice hogs at $17.25, and a few $17.50. This was around 50 cents or more above Northern quotations. Sows at $17.25 downward shared the weaker market.

Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $21 to $22, and cull to medium lambs sold from $17 to $20. Stocker and feeder lambs of medium to good grades sold from $19 to $20.

Yearling muttons sold from $19 to $18, and slaughter ewes sold from $7.50 to $9. A few breeding ewes sold at $20 per head. Aged bucks sold from $5 to $6. A few goats sold for around $6.

Elementary Students Study Thanksgiving

Students of the fourth and fifth grades of the Hamlin Elementary School eagerly anticipate the Thanksgiving holidays, declare the teachers. The fourth grade exhibits are replicas of the first Thanksgiving. The pupils have been learning the value of work, responsibility and being grateful.

The verse "Give us our daily bread" includes the wealth of material bread, spiritual bread and the wisdom of bread. We, the teachers and pupils, are grateful for the well balanced and well prepared lunches. The pupils appreciate the free milk in the afternoon that is partly furnished by the Parent-Teacher Association, say the teachers.

Clyde (Doc) Sims Buys Martin Drive-Inn

Announcement was made last week of the purchase by Clyde (Doc) Sims of Anson of the Martin Drive-Inn restaurant on East Lake Drive from Mr. and Mrs. Fank Martin, who have operated the business for nearly a year. Sims is already in charge.

Sims said this week he would move his family here as soon as satisfactory housing can be arranged. He and Mrs. Sims have three children—Sharon, 15, Debbie Gail, seven, and Barty, 10. They are Baptists and he is a Mason.

REAL EDUCATION.

Education does not mean teaching people to know what they do not know; it means teaching them to behave as they do not behave.—John Ruskin.

Kids' Photo Contest Again Arranged for

For the third successive year The Herald has made arrangements with Winston Lucas of Irving, who will come to Hamlin again on Tuesday, December 3, to make pictures of youngsters of the territory and enter them in a photo contest.

The photos will be made free of charge, and each child will have his picture published in The Hamlin Herald. In addition the children will be competing for $18.20 in prizes, being offered for the three best photographs made during the day.

Studios will be set up at Hasen's Dry Goods.

A proud man is seldom a grateful man, for he never thinks he gets as much as he deserves.—H. W. Beecher.

Missionary Slated To Talk Friday at Nazarene Church

Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Paul, missionaries of the Church of the Nazarene to Barbados, will present a special service at the Hamlin church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, according to the pastor, Rev. Bill Hanna.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul have recently returned to the United States on furlough.

While on the field, Rev. Paul has done evangelistic and pastoral work, served as district president of youth work, conducted the course of study classes for pastors, constructed the district tabernacle, served as mission field treasurer, and introduced vacation Bible schools and Christian service training courses on the district.

Before going to Barbados, Rev. Paul attended Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa, Idaho, and Seattle Pacific College in Washington. He also pastored for seven years in the Dakotas and Missouri.

Rev. Paul is traveling extensively in deputation work while in the states, and is speaking concerning the island of Barbados, its people and industries, and the work of the Church of the Nazarene there.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend this special service, declares Pastor Hanna.

Free Cooking School Set at H&M Today

Women and girls of the Hamlin trade territory (and the menfolk if they so desire) are invited to attend the free cooking school to be conducted this (Thursday) afternoon from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock at the H. & M. Tire and Appliance Store, according to Joe Hudspeth, co-owner.

New techniques of food preparation and cooking will be demonstrated by Opal Paden, home economist, using appliances from H. & M.

Door prizes will be given to attendants at the cooking school, declares Hudspeth.

REPORTS TO CONTRARY.

Two camels plodded along side by side in a caravan crossing the burning desert.

Finally one looked around furtively and said: "I don't care what anybody says, I'm thirsty."

DePriest School Sest Open House Sunday

People of the Hamlin community are invited to visit and inspect the DePriest Colored School Sunday afternoon during an open house period, according to E. S. Morgan, principal. Visiting hours will be from 2:00 to 5:30 p. m.

Featured at the open house will be the new homelike cottage that has recently been completed at the school. Other school activities also will be highlighted at the open house, Morgan says.

"All the Way!"

The 58 FORD is here now...

there's nothing newer in the world

With all that's new for a world of difference

There's bold, new styling—new Interceptor V-8 Power—new Cruise-O-Matic Drive—new Ford-Aire Suspension! The 58 Ford is the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere!

You could search the world over and never find a car to match this 58 Ford's new beauty... new power... new side... all at the low Ford price. We know! We tried it!

In Paris... the most style-conscious fashion critics in the world had a deep, low bow for Ford's latest style creation. In the mighty Himalayas, Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine with Precision Fuel Induction won the day!

Then there's nothing newer than the true air ride of Ford-Aire Suspension. It's like riding on a cloud! But, you don't have to go to foreign soil to drive this newest Ford. We'll gladly save you the trip. Come in today!

From London to Bangkok... the whole world loved it!

The 58 Ford stopped traffic in Trafalgar Square when it passed through on its round-the-world trip. And that was typical of the excitement this Ford caused in Paris... Rome... Athens... Istanbul... Calcutta... and Bangkok. For this Ford was proved around the world in the toughest "shakedown" cruise in history.

Smooth as they come... smart as they go. The Fairlane 500 takes the 58 styling cake, going away (leaving, too!)

COME IN... SEE THE CAR THAT WAS PROVED AND APPROVED AROUND THE WORLD!

Plans to Furnish Area Hospitals with Xmas Cheer Made by Garden Clubs

Rain failed to dampen the zeal and hamper attendance greatly at the recent meeting at Menard of District VIII Garden Clubs of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. Mrs. Edgar Duncan, president, and Mrs. Clyde Grice, second vice president of the Hamlin Garden Club were among attendants.

There were 128 registrations, an agreeable surprise to those who had listened throughout the night before to the steady downpour of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. John Royal spoke on the subjects of soil and water and the features of the water conservation. Mr. Royal explained the plan passed by the people of Texas recently.

District VIII Garden Clubs are planning to fulfill these needs of hospitals and schools in and near their district this Christmas.

Abilene State Hospital—Twenty-four five-foot Christmas trees; 36 round door wreaths; 24 boxes of medium sized Christmas tree balls (12 to the box average); 24 large rolls of flame-proof Christmas tree cotton; 12 sets of Christmas tree lights; enough homemade Christmas tree decorations (flame-proof) for 24 trees five feet high.

Legion State Tuberculosis Hospital near Kerrville—140 corsages; 50 small bedside arrangements, such as miniature Christmas trees or Santa Claus; nine large evergreen wreaths.

Wichita Falls State Hospital—Fifteen dozen ornaments; 200 packages tinsel; 200 yards rope tinsel; 400 corsages; 20 sets of lights.

Need for these articles is great, according to Mrs. O. D. Bradford, district publicity chairman. District VIII Garden Clubs have already started filling the above assignments, she says.

Sweetwater Garden Club invites all interested persons to attend a lecture and demonstration by Robert A. Rucker of Texas Technological College at Lubbock Friday evening, December 6, at the Bluebonnet Hotel in Sweetwater. Six Christmas tree tables and centerpieces will be shown. Rucker has a national reputation as arranger. A nominal fee will be charged, and door prizes will be given.

THESE WOMEN!

By d'Alessio

Woman, Endeavoring to Please Man, May Improve with Man's Suggestions

Most women dress, make up, use perfume and cultivate a winning way to attract and please men, declares Vivian Brown, AP Newsfeatures beauty editor. But sometimes they object when a man offers suggestions as to how they can improve themselves.

Once in a while a man may come up with some very useful pointers for women, however, if they'd but listen, as a letter to this column from a retired Army colonel indicates. His advice appears to be worth passing on to readers for their amusement or amazement.

"A woman should buy the clothes she wants and do her own color matching, but should have an impartial man (not a husband, because he will not look, and not a wolf because he'd like her in anything) look her over. Women stress sex but they are not subtle enough, like a couple of women I noticed just this morning. One was perfect down to the hemline. It was four inches too long to really set off her legs. The other was perfect up to the hemline. 'If the first woman had her hemline up to the level of the other, even her husband would whistle. The second needed to start all over, although she was pretty enough. As it was, I yawned.

"What women need to shoot for is to set their figures off so that their father or brother would be proud of them, and so that another man realizes he is not their father or brother and looks again and again.

"Women should practice patting children, too, until they develop an automatic smile. A lot of women have pretty figures and nice clothes, but we need them in the store and they have that little hard look of being pre-occupied in their faces.

"My wife is lovely, but when she is occupied with household chores and has that far-away look, I never pay any attention to her.

"The other day I saw a beautiful blonde in a clothing store in Daytona, Florida. She was dressed perfectly with a figure that was out of this world, but she never changed her expression for half an hour. Her face seemed to be frozen. I would have given her some advice as a big brother only my wife was just a few counters down the aisle. If I was sure she wouldn't have slapped my face (the blonde) I'd have given her a few bad minutes so she could improve her personality in the future.

"French girls have developed a look that seems to say they are going to fall right in your arms. But they do not really do that or anything more forward than the American girls, except they manage to avoid that hard look. A man can buy a statue anywhere. He doesn't want to marry one.

"Why doesn't a woman take off into a grocery chain store some day just as if she were breezing into a cocktail party to test my theory? She would smile at all the males she knows in the store, and she'll be amazed how they respond. Then she can keep up that same attitude all day until her husband comes home from work. She'll be surprised at the pleasant reaction.

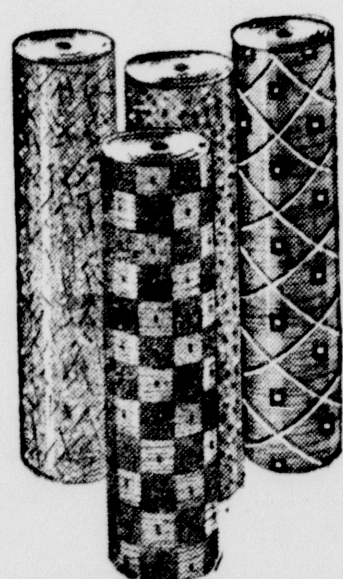

"In short, it isn't that you girls aren't pretty and do not have good figures. You just murder what you have!"

Literary Club Votes To Decorate Window

Members of the Woman's Literary Club voted to decorate a downtown window for the Christmas holidays when they met in regular session last Friday in the home of Mrs. Stanley Carmichael. The session was conducted by Mrs. Virgil Steele, vice president, in the absence of Mrs. Dick Maberry, the president.

After a brief business session, Mrs. John Ed Day, director, presented an interesting background of Newell Shute, author of the inspiring book, "On the Beach," which was reviewed by Mrs. James Fitzgerald, which tied in with the theme for the program, "A Better Understanding of Our Immediate Predicament."

Missionary Lesson Studied by Baptist WMS Group Monday

Members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met at the church Monday afternoon for a missionary lesson. The subject of the program was "Three Knocks in the Night." Attractive posters and maps were used to illustrate the parts on the program.

Mrs. L. A. Joiner led the program and gave pertinent facts about Baptist work in Africa, in South America and in the Orient. Mrs. W. E. Rodgers gave the devotional, then she told the story of an early missionary to India, who heard three knocks in the night and as a result became a medical missionary.

"Insistent Knocks from Africa" was given by Mrs. L. E. Prewitt; Mrs. A. H. Trotter gave the part "Those to the South Knock;" and Mmes. Johnny Agnew and S. C. Ferguson talked on "The Orient Still Knocks." The leader of the program closed the program with "Christ Would Enter to Bless."

Hamlin Deer Hunters Report Good Luck in Mason Sector

Other Hunters Leave This Week For Big Bend

Some deer hunters were due to return to the week with their hunting in their belts, while others from the Hamlin territory were just leaving.

Telephone reports from the party headed by Stanley and Art Carmichael, who went to the Mason country over the week-end, were that they had bagged nine bucks through Tuesday. Besides Stanley and Art others in the group were Harry Carmichael of

Hamlin Junior High Gridders Complete Season with Record

Hamlin Junior High School's football crew wound up the season with a perfect record Saturday when they topped the Anson boys by a 52-21 score in a make-up tilt that had been postponed on account of the weather. After the recent games of the five-member team the standings for the year looked like this:

DISTRICT 4-AA STANDINGS

Seymour Panthers wound up the season with a perfect record last Friday night, and the remaining teams of the District 4-AA race were in about the positions they had been doped to take early in the season. Hamlin wound up the season in fourth place in both the all-season and district standings.

The standings, after last Friday night's two district games, looked like this:

Team	P	W	L	T	Pct.
Seymour	9	9	0	0	1.000
Stamford	9	7	2	0	.778
Anson	10	7	2	1	.750

Anson Drubbed by Champ Seymour in Loop Final 34-21

Although the Anson High School Tigers rolled up 10 first downs to eight for the visiting Seymour Panthers, the county seat boys lost the final District 4-AA grid game to the Seymour crew 34 to 21 Friday night at Anson. The Seymour victory gave the Panthers undisputed claim to the district crown with a perfect record in nine games.

While Hamlin was mopping the Haskell Indians, the Stamford Bulldogs, last year's Class AA champion who had already been virtually eliminated from the race with a loss to Seymour, were on the sidelines with a rest.

The win for Seymour pits the Panthers against District 3-AA Perryton in the bi-district play-off.

The Tigers brought first blood of the game on a passing attack. Jimmy Roberts accounted for two Anson touchdowns and set up the first one to be the star of the game.

Seymour intercepted seven Anson aerials to make most of their scoring. Scoring for the Panthers were Larry Martin (two), Pollard and R. L. McClung (two).

BUT IT'S SLANTED.
Prejudice is a wonderful time saver; it enables one to form an opinion without bothering to get the facts.

The foolish man sees happiness in the distance; the wise grows it under his feet.—James Oppenheim.

WINDING UP THEIR FOOTBALL SEASON Friday night at Haskell was the Pied Pipers' of Hamlin High School pictured above. The crew has had a good year, although the District 4-AA games have been rough. Season record has been seven wins, two losses and a tie out of ten games played for a season percentage of .750. Members of the crew are: Lanier Foster, Carl Max Weaver, John Richey, Gene Murff, Virgil Wilson, Jimmy Bryson, Billy Murff, Richie Smith, Boyce Blankinship and Ken Prewitt, backs; Charles Green, Charles Jenkins, Steve Stephens, Bob Carter and Marcus Fletcher, ends; Mike Brandon and Durwood Boyd, centers; Tommy Bonds, Bob Martin, Victor Criswell, Sam Hodges, Bob Haynes and Stephen Carmichael, guards; Don Drummond, Loyce Fowler, Jimmy Hester and Joe Deel, tackles. Coaches are D. C. Andrews, Jimmy Vaughan and Neil Laminack.

Mighty Mice Defeat Rotan Juniors 41 to 14 In Next to Last Tilt

In the next to last game of the season on the grid calendar of Hamlin Junior High School, played at Rotan last Thursday, the Mighty Mice defeated the Rotan crew by a 41 to 14 count.

Frankie Lee scored the first Hamlin tally on a 75-yard run in the first quarter. The extra point try failed because of a fumble. In the second quarter Lee scored again on a 55-yard trapeze in the first play after Babe Shields had returned the kick-off to the 45-yard spot. Lee made the extra point. Stanley Austin went over for the third marker and Frankie again made the extra point. Lee again tallied on an 85-yard run and also went over for the extra point.

In the second quarter Rotan made a touchdown on the first play of the period and dived over for the extra point to make the half-time score 27 to 7.

Lee scored in the third quarter on a sneak play and made the added point. Bill Richey accounted for hte last Hamlin score in the third period, and Stanley Austin added the extra point.

Rotan scored also in the third period again on a 63-yard run, and made the extra point.

Junior High Schools To Plan Cage Games

With a successful football season behind them, the junior high schools of the immediate area will plan a full schedule of basketball games. It is announced by Marvin Carlton, principal of Hamlin Junior High School.

Representatives of the schools at Rotan, Albany, Anson, Merkel and Hamlin are to meet at Anson cafeteria this (Thursday) evening at 7:00 o'clock to draw up the basketball schedule.

What a lot of women would like to do with last year's dress is get into it.

Pied Pipers Down Haskell 46 to 18 in Season Climax

Hamlin High School's gridders placed a fitting crown on a fine football season Friday night when they laced the Haskell Indians 46 to 18 in a tilt that had no effect on the outcome of the District 4-AA crown. The victory gave the Pied Pipers a season record of seven wins, two losses and one tie.

Quarterback Billy Murff and Halfback Virgil Wilson, who have teamed up the last few games to lead the attack on grid foes, again started in Friday night's melee at Haskell. Each tallied two touchdowns.

Murff started the game with a 46-yard keeper around left end in the first quarter. Wilson tallied twice later in the same period on runs of 12 and 20 yards. Lanier Foster booted one of the three extra point tries.

In the second period Carl Max Weaver went over from the six-yard spot for the fourth touchdown after Murff had set up the scene with a long run.

In the final minutes of the first half Murff intercepted a Haskell pass on the 30-yard line and went over the double stripe. Foster kicked the extra point to make the half-time score 32 to 0.

In the third quarter Don Pennington went over for a Haskell score on a one-yard sneak. Again in the fourth quarter Pennington passed to Jerry Wheatley for eight yards and the Haskell second score.

Again Wilson went over in the fourth quarter on a jump pass from Murff that was good for 35 yards. John Richey kicked the extra point.

Later in the game Wilson went over from the two and Foster converted to end the Hamlin scoring. Last score for Haskell came in the final 30 seconds of the tilt as

Junior High Grid Crew Beats Anson In Finale 52 to 21

Coach Harry Martin's Junior High gridders capped a perfect season by slaying past the Anson Cubs last Saturday evening at Anson by a 52 to 21 score in a make-up game that had been postponed on account of the bad weather.

Anson's team was severely handicapped by the flu with four first string men missing the game.

Frankie Lee was the outstanding player for Hamlin, scoring three times. Tallying single touchdowns for Hamlin were Bill Richey, Babe Shields, Jerry Duncan, Johnny Stovall and Jimmy Cooper. One counter was scored on a pass from Frankie Lee to Jerry Duncan in the last 30 seconds of the game.

Hamlin's line of Cooper, Duncan, Mendoza, Williams, Jerry Smith, Raley Smith, Curtis Carter, Robert Woodruff and Stanley Austin did good work. Wayne Baize played a good game at quarterback after missing the Rotan game earlier in the week.

The win gave the Hamlin boys a perfect season, with nine wins and no losses.

Seymour Will Meet Perryton in Play-Off

First play-off game for this Central West Texas area of Class AA football will be played Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Childress, when the Seymour Panthers, winners of the District 4-AA title, meet the Perryton gridders, victors of District 3-AA.

Several Hamlin football fans are expected to see the game that features new teams from last year's bi-district play.

Jimmy Don Brock hit Joe Decker with a pass that went 30 yards.

Hamlin High School Library Workers To Attend District Meeting at Winters

Eleven Hamlin High School students will be attendants at the seventh annual convention of District III of the Texas Teen-Age Library Association when it convenes Saturday at Winters High School. TALA is a state organization of student library workers sponsored by the Texas Library Association.

Edin-Simmons University Director of Library Mabel B. Wilby will speak on "Careers in the Library Field" at the first general assembly.

Registration will begin at Winters High School at 9:00 a. m., and the first general session at 10:00 a. m. Guided tours are to be conducted through the business administration department, the library and the homemaking cottage, followed by a luncheon in the school cafeteria.

Second general assembly is

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Still Fall

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending November 9, 1957, were 24,274 compared with 23,791 cars for the same week in 1956, reflecting a continuing decline from the year ago carloadings. Cars received from connections totaled 12,270 compared with 13,229 for the same week in 1956. Total cars moved were 36,544 compared with 37,020 for the same week in 1956. Santa Fe handled a total of 37,620 cars in the preceding week this year.

Members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Gerry Rumfield.

After a business session, Gwendolyn Brown, the program chairman, told an African story. A short play was given by two members, Gerry Rumfield and Pat Branscum.

Members present were Gerry Rumfield, Gwendolyn Brown, Pat Branscum, Brenda Hargrove and Carol Jo Simpson, members; and Mrs. LaFoy Patterson and Mrs. Kenneth Riddle, counselors.

Church Women Can Chow-Chow for Home

Women of the Hamlin Church of Christ met last Tuesday in the church kitchen and made chow-chow for the Lubbock Children's Home. They canned 50 quarts. Women of the Hamlin congregation have made 50 quilts for the home since it was established in April, 1954.

The home is supported by the Churches of Christ. John White, who formerly taught at Swedens School, west of Hamlin, is superintendent of the home.

History of Gypsum Given by Official In Rotary Talk

Background of the gypsum industry and information about the Hamlin plant of the Celotex Corporation furnished basis for an interesting and informative program at last Wednesday's meeting of the Hamlin Rotary Club at the oil mill guest house. Stan Sheppard, director of personnel at the plant, was the speaker.

A Chinaman discovered some of the possibilities of gypsum more than 4,000 years ago, declared Sheppard. The coolie, he said, was camping on a huge white rock where he built a fire and learned that the heat powdered the rock, then when his fire extinguishing water was poured on the fire it was reformed into a hard substance again. Use of gypsum then was traced through early forms of plastering in Egypt and then in scores of other uses through the years.

Scope of the Celotex operations was revealed with the assertion by Sheppard that the concern ranks 317th in size of assets among firms of the world. It has 8,900 stockholders and 4,800 employees, some 200 of whom live in and around Hamlin.

The Celotex official outlined the work of the local plant, and displayed some samples of products, showing some fire-proof, light-weight roof decking that is becoming popular with builders. He declared that the Hamlin plant is a big factor in the economy of the community. Selling costs, he said, had increased 30 per cent since 1940, while manufacturing costs including labor have increased 400 per cent.

Dudley Griggs and Rev. Edmund Robb were installed as new members of the Rotary Club. Tate May, a charter member, presided at initiation ceremonies.

Besides Sheppard, other guests at the Wednesday luncheon were K. K. Francis of Stamford, James Ross of Abilene, Jim Shipman of Houston and Buddy Wade and Virgil Wilson, Junior Rotarian, of Hamlin.

Texas Baptist Group Opposes Integration

A resolution opposing any form of integration of the races was adopted last Wednesday by unanimous vote of members of the Missionary Baptist Association of Texas at their annual meeting at Mineral Wells.

Rev. R. B. Tiner, pastor of the Sunset Baptist Church, and Rev. G. C. Henry, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, were among attendants.

The resolution, which will be sent to the heads of state and national government, opposed also the use of federal troops to enforce any decision of the Supreme Court calling for integration.

Trade in Hamlin

... where shopping is a social affair

You Owe It to Yourself

... to shop home area stores first

We often accept some common fallacy as a fact ... without bothering to look for proof. One of these you've often heard ... and possibly uttered ... is that prices are lower in city stores.

Yet ... every day ... people bring home bargains from the city and later find they could have bought the same thing for less money in their home stores.

You owe it to yourself ... to your family ... to your neighbors ... and to your own future ... to shop your home area stores first. More often than not, their prices are lowest; always their values are best ... when you count service, convenience, and the better reward for your labor that comes with more trade volume where you make your living.

The people who serve you in your local stores are your friends and neighbors ... interested in you and in your problems; not in your business alone. Your trade keeps them here, to work with you for community betterment, to help you pay for better schools and churches and a happier social environment, to be at your side when difficulties arise.

It Pays to Buy Where You Live!

Of all the business establishments in the world—only those in Hamlin are sincerely interested in the future of Hamlin and in the future of YOU who live here . . .

Caution with Common Cold Often Can Help Avoid Major Illness, Says Medicine

Now that school days are routine and winter is starting to push fall aside, there will probably be the usual increase in communicable diseases common to children. Hamlin area residents are reminded by Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of the Texas State Department of Health.

Ten From Hamlin Among Students Now At Hardin-Simmons

Ten students from Hamlin are among the more than 1,500 students attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene this fall.

They include: Bobby Eugene Bingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bingham of Route 3; Barbara Ann Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Durham; James Robert Feagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Feagan; James Walter Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Freeman; William S. Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Hanna of El Paso; Jo Ann Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Holmes of Route 1; Mickey K. Scott, son of Mrs. F. Scott of 153 Southwest Fourth Street; Rowland Gene Steele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Steele of Route 2; Franklin D. Willis of 530 Northwest Avenue; and Carl Travis Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young.

The students are members of the following campus organizations: Bingham is a member of the Cowboy Band and Circle K; Barbara is a member of Cowgirls and Rodeo Club; Mickey is a member of Pi Gamma Mu; Carl is a member of the Future Teachers of America.

The fall semester got underway September 20. The first university holiday will be Thanksgiving, to be observed November 27 through December 1. Students will leave the campus at noon December 21 for the Christmas vacation and return on January 5.

Awards of $182,682.52 Paid by Fair to Youths

Checks totaling $182,682.52 have been mailed to 1,235 Texas Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys and girls who participated in junior livestock and poultry auction sales during the 1957 State Fair of Texas.

In the junior livestock auction 528 steers were sold for $142,991, 233 lambs for $7,427.27 and 533 pigs for $23,891.10. There were 300 buyers taking part.

Youngsters taking part in the sales came from more than 200 of the 254 counties in Texas. The 1,235 who participated was the largest number ever to be represented in the auctions.

Bald eagles are so named because of the effect of the white feathers on their heads.

SETTING THE PATTERN.

A quiet rancher who had just gotten married was driving his bride to the ranch in his buggy.

Only a short while after starting, the mare pulling the buggy stumbled on a stone. "That's once," mumbled the rancher quietly but loud enough that his wife could hear. A little farther the mare stumbled again. "That's twice," he said, a little louder this time. When the mare tripped a third time the rancher shouted, "That's three times," and jumped out and shot the mare.

Upset by this unexpected display of temper, his new wife gave out with a searing tongue lashing. Her rancher husband, however, seemed unmoved and heard her out patiently. When she finished he looked her straight in the eye. His only words were, "That's once."

Cotton Farmers Warned That Good Planting Seed to Be Scarce Next Year

Hamlin area cotton farmers are warned that good cotton planting seed with high germination may be scarce next spring. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, said the situation which has developed is due to late plantings last spring and the wet weather which has hit all sections of the Cotton Belt during the harvest season. The situation, he added, is even worse in the eastern part of the Cotton Belt and seed of certain varieties are almost certain to be in short supply.

Elliott advised cotton growers to save and carefully store any good quality seed of known varieties. This, he said, is one of those seasons when planting seed even with a low moisture content cannot be placed in storage and forgotten about until next spring. A continuous check on stored seed is suggested.

PATIENCE IN RIGHT PLACE.

A young father was pushing a baby carriage in which an infant was screaming. Wheeling the howling baby along he kept murmuring gently "Easy now, Donald. Keep calm, Donald. Steady, boy. It's all right, Donald."

A mother passing by paused to say, "You certainly know how to talk to an upset child—quietly and gently." Then, leaning over the carriage she said, "What seems to be the trouble, Donald?" "Oh, no," said the father. "He's Henry. I'm Donald."

Here are Elliott's suggestions for handling seed: Check seed closely for damage before storing and store those with high germination (80 per cent is very good) and low free fatty acid content. Seed saved for bulk storage, he said, should contain less than 12 per cent moisture unless good drying and cooling facilities are available. Small quantities of seed should be turned and sacked.

Large quantities of bulk stored seed, he said, should be cured by aeration to maintain quality. A portable fan and duct system can be used to draw air through the seed. He warned that a moisture content of 13.6 per cent is the critical point beyond which storage may become disastrous. Every effort, he said, should be made to bring the moisture content down to 10 or 11 per cent on seed in storage. Drawing air through the seed must be done during daylight hours and only in fair weather and preferably between 10:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m., he said.

A germination test should be run on the seed before planting as an aid in determining how much seed to plant, he said. No germination test should be made until the seed have been in storage for at least 30 days, which is the normal rest period of freshly ginned seed. Finally, Elliott suggested a visit with the local county agent for more details on cottonseed storage problems.

TORNADO LEVELS HOMES—A tornado that roared out of the night cut this swath through a housing development at Orange. At least 12 persons were killed by twisters that struck at the southeast corner of Texas and portions of Louisiana and Mississippi.

Ground Mesquite Brush Makes Good Feed Roughage

Hamlin area ranchers are gratified to know that mesquite wood ground into a meal is a source of bulk in rations for cattle when other roughages are scarce and relatively high in price.

Yearling steers fed a ration containing 7.2 pounds of ground mesquite wood gained 2.2 pounds per head daily in feeding tests at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur, said P. T. Marion, station superintendent. Similar steers fed cottonseed hulls instead of mesquite meal gained 2.29 pounds daily. The feeding period was 140 days.

In a more recent test lasting 112 days yearling steers fed a ration containing 12.23 pounds of ground mesquite wood per head daily gained an average of 2.54 pounds daily, compared with 2.71 pounds gained daily by steers fed a silage ration, he added.

Steers fed hte mesquite meal made a higher net profit on the basis of $10 per ton for ground mesquite and $18 per ton for cottonseed hulls than those fed the cottonseed hull ration.

A chemical analysis shows that mesquite meal has a higher protein, fiber and calcium content

Ray Walker Goes to East Texas as Agent

Ray Walker, agent in training in Jones County for the past five months, has been transferred to Carthage in Panola County, where he has been named assistant agent, according to Bill Lehmborg, county agent. Effective date of the transfer was November 18.

His wife and young son, Ray Jr., accompanied him.

While in Jones County, Ray took an active part in all extension activities and had completed his training schedule by early September. His time was spent working with both adults and 4-H Club members.

TOUGH CURE.

"Hard work will make you forget your worries," says a physician. And breaking a leg will make you forget a headache.

than cottonseed hulls, but a slightly lower fat and carbohydrate content.

Carotene (vitamin A) also is in the mesquite meal, but this essential element is not present or is very low in quantity in many dry roughages.

Mesquite to be used should be green stems and branches one to three inches in diameter, and should be allowed to cure for five to seven days before grinding. Curing will make grinding easier and will lower the moisture content, eliminating molding after grinding.

The wood apparently may be harvested at any time of the year, but it usually has the highest nutritive value in the spring before leaf development begins.

Extension Council Plans Program for Year for Agents

To plan the 1958 county program for the extension workers, the Jones County extension council met in Anson recently, according to Bill Lehmborg, county agent, and Mary Y. Newberry, home demonstration agent. Olin Potts, chairman, presided.

Committee reports were reviewed and adopted. A review of accomplishments of the 1957 program was given by the agents.

The following officers were elected for 1958: Birger Haterius of Ericksdahl, chairman; L. W. Larson of Ericksdahl, vice chairman; and Karen Irvin of Noodle, secretary.

Council members were named to fill vacancies of those whose terms had expired. Those named included Mrs. Maxey Harvey of Willow Creek, L. W. Stenholm of Ericksdahl, Fred B. Moore Jr. of Hamlin and Mark Holloway of Anson.

Those attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harms of Stamford, Johnnie Agnew of Hamlin, Birger Haterius and L. W. Larson of Ericksdahl, Olin Potts of Anson and the agents.

REACTIONS VARY.

Chatter between two girls having late day drinks at a cocktail party: "I swear, I don't understand how the Russians can be so nasty," commented one of them. "Just two sips of Vodka and I like everybody."

Safety Official Urges Inspection Of All Autos Soon

With only one-tenth of the motor vehicles in Texas inspected for the year 1958, automobile and trucks owners of the Hamlin area and the rest of the state were urged this week to obtain their new inspection stickers before the holiday season.

Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, called upon motorists to obtain their 1958 inspection stickers as soon as possible in order to alleviate the last minute rush on the 4,200 inspection stations in Texas.

Garrison said only about 450,000 of the 4,000,000 registered vehicles in the state have been inspected and approved.

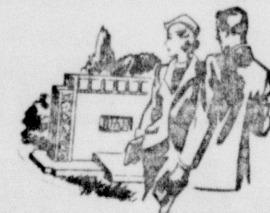

"While this number exceeds that for the same period last year," he said, "the present rate of inspection will not prevent inspection stations from being rushed again during the last few weeks of the inspection period ending April 15, 1958. Vehicle owners who complete their inspections before the holiday period will avoid the inconvenience of waiting at the inspection stations.

The state police director also said that early inspections will be of benefit to motorists who plan trips during the Thanksgiving to New Year period by eliminating mechanical defects.

COUP DE GRACE.

Telegraph messengers are often called upon to exercise wily diplomacy.

One once proved himself a past master at the diplomatic game of flattery when he entered an elevator and forgot to take off his hat. There was only one other passenger in the elevator, but she was a rather fussy, middle aged woman, and she asked:

"Don't you take off your hat to ladies?"

"Only to the old ones, madam," he replied with a little bow.

The Herald has carbon paper.

FOR GENERAL DELIVERY.

A couple of recruits, fresh from training camp, were sitting in a shell hole while a barrage whizzed over them.

"What about you, Harvey," said the first, "aren't you scared?" "Not me," boasted the second. "I just got a hunch that none of them's got my name on it."

"I'm not worried about my name on any shell," replied the first, "but what bothers me is, suppose there's one marked, 'To whom it may concern.'"

All states now have stringent laws against dueling.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come on in and see our Swept-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.

Hamlin Welfare Group Services 2 Calls Last Year

Thirty-two calls were serviced by the Hamlin welfare fund administered by the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance, it was reported in the annual summary by C. C. Bailey, chairman of the committee in charge of administering the fund, during the past year.

Total of $158.72 in cash was disbursed to aid local residents in destitute circumstances and transients who were stranded here or were in dire need, Bailey said.

With a balance of $127.53 on hand at the beginning of the year, last December 1, the funds were supplemented by donations from various sources, the treasurer said. There is now a balance of $73.81 in the fund.

The welfare fund is primarily raised by donations at the annual union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance. Additional funds will be sought at the annual service set

Jerry Smith Finishes Radio Repair Course At Army Signal Base

Specialist Third Class Jerry G. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Smith of Route 1, McCaulley, was graduated November 8 from the field radio repair course at the Army's Southeastern Signal School at Fort Gordon, Georgia, according to a release to The Herald from the base.

The 25-week course trained Specialist Smith in the fundamentals of electricity and radio, the service and repair of radio transmitters and receivers, and the use of radio testing equipment.

Specialist Smith entered the Army in February, 1957, and received basic training at Fort Bliss near El Paso.

A member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, Smith attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock. He was employed by the Santa Fe Railway at Slaton before entering the Army. His wife, Lou, lives at Augusta, Georgia.

County One of Few To Pay Officials in Fees, Lions Told

"Jones County is one of the few counties of the state where fees of office more than pay for the salaries of the county officials," declared Gene Spurgin Jr., county clerk of Jones County, when he spoke at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

The clerk reviewed operations of the various county offices, and discussed the sources of income and expenditures of county funds through the county government. He said that in 1946 it was necessary to transfer $18,000 from other funds in order to meet the salaries of county officials, and since then fees of the various offices have increased to the point that now they more than pay this portion of the county government cost. Receipts last year from all sources, he said, were $468,278.75, while disbursements were $506,521.39. In explaining this particular year of spending the said the purchase of right-of-way for highways was the big item.

All county officials, he said, are paid a flat salary of $4,800 per year, except the county judge, tax assessor and collector, who receive more, and the county treasurer, who receives less.

Buddy Wells was initiated as a new member of the club by Lion Tamer James Josey and Ed Croan. Besides the county clerk, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon was Sam Gorman of Abilene.

Rise of Frank Sinatra in Show Business Has Been Phenomenal Film Reveals

Frank Sinatra, who won the highest acting prize of all, an Academy Award, for a memorable dramatic performance as Montgomery Clift's Army pal in "From Here to Eternity," portrays another "best friend" in an equally colorful role, both serious and comic, in "Not As a Stranger," Morton Thompson's best selling novel, which is playing next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ferguson Theater.

Sinatra is cast as Alfred Boone, Robert Mitchum's fellow student and later contemporary at medicine, in the romantic drama.

Sinatra's career in show business and Hollywood has been marked by unexpectedness. In 1938, at 21, he was making $15 a week as a singing waiter. Five years later, at 25,000 a week, he was the idol of then action's bobby-soxers.

Appearing on Major Bowes' radio amateur hour with a quartet, Frank won first prize with his rendition of "Night and Day."

He started in radio, singing on 18 sustaining programs in Jersey City, Newark and New York, and then took a job which he considered more stable, as singing emcee and head-water at the Rustic Cabin for $15 a week. Harry James caught his act and signed him for $75 a week to sing with the James band. During an engagement in Los Angeles when James was having booking delays Tommy Dorsey offered Frank $150 a week and James agreed that he should join Dorsey.

One night Paramount Theater Director Robert Weisman went over to Newark's Mosque Theater to "see why throngs of teen-agers were yelling and swooning all over his place." This led to a four-week engagement at the Paramount for Sinatra, with Benny Goodman's orchestra, to a completely sold-out house. By now Frank was the hottest act in the show business.

Following additional appearances and the pressing of records that sold more than 1,000,000 each Sinatra in 1943 starred in the movie, "Higher and Higher." Hollywood awarded him a special

Record Christmas Mailing Prompts Early Dispatching

Predicting that the Christmas mail this year will set an all-time record, even exceeding the record set in 1956, Postmaster Perry Sparks announced his 1957 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign this week.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, the postmaster reminds us, "It's later than you think." Most folks have a tendency to wait until December rolls around before they give their Christmas mailing plans a thought.

The postmaster further suggested that right now is the time to take the following steps: Check your Christmas card lists very carefully—make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

He said also that it is a good idea to stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape for use in securely wrapping your Christmas gifts. If you'd like to include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package, just add the appropriate first class mail postage to the postage for the package itself; thus insuring simultaneous arrival of your gift and greeting.

Texas Farm Bureau Record Membership

Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Farm Bureau, revealed at Dallas this week that the organization ended its fiscal year with a membership of 72,680, the largest in its history.

In a report to the opening session of the twenty-fourth annual Farm Bureau convention, Barbour said that figure represented a gain of 2,521 members over 1956 and marked the fifth consecutive year for the state's largest farm organization to show a gain.

B-58 BUICK

Now you can Switch the Pitch a Million Ways

FLIGHT PITCH DYNAFLOW®—last word in travel with your wheels on the ground!

MAYBE you've felt smooth transmissions before. Maybe you've had obedient response before. But take it from us—you have never in all your born days known anything like this Buick's Flight Pitch Dynaflow!

This one switches the pitch a million ways—automatically, smoothly, thrillingly.

Thanks to a new infinite-pitch stator, you get the most efficient ratio of engine power to rear-wheel turning on the American scene today.

The result: an exuberant feeling of aliveness—a new sense of command unlike anything you've known before.

But there's far more than brilliant performance in this '58 Buick. It embodies more aircraft principles than any other car yet built. It carries a new excitement in styling—a joyous new comfort in travel—a new nimbleness to handling—and the solid satisfaction of a new standard of Buick quality.

Want to hear more? See more? Do more?

Drop in and guest-drive the glamorous B-58 Buick today.

*Flight Pitch Dynaflow standard on LIMITED and ROADMASTER 75, optional at extra cost on other Series. Air-Poise Suspension optional at extra cost on all Series.

Another Day of Oil Flow Allowed During December

One more day of oil production has been promised producers in the month of December, but royalty owners and producers found little to be happy about in the maintained cut in allowables for the month set last week by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The commission set December oil production based on only 12 days, setting the allowable at 2,987,415 barrels a day.

This was a drop of 60,151 barrels from November.

The decrease in the allowable results in the next month being one day longer. Two major oil company buyers asked for 13 days and two said 11 days would handle their needs.

No general comments were made by independents at the state-wide prorator hearing.

Chairman Olin Culberson of the commission told one witness who was complaining about imports that "It's my personal opinion that the importers are choking us to death, but we can take no official consideration of this."

The allowable, excepting October's 2,964,062 barrels, was the lowest since it fell to 2,936,945 barrels August 6, 1955.
